NO. 147

NEW CABINET FORMED IN GREECE AS DEMANDED BY ENTENTE; ZAIMIS PREMIER AND FOREIGN MINISTER

Gen. Callaris is Minister of War and Rhallis is Minister of Finance; Satisfaction at Outcome of Allies' Ultimatum is General Among People; Entente Ministers Have Recommended Lifting of Blockade; Stock Market Recovering

Athens, June 23.—There is general satisfaction shown among the public over the result of the ultimatum sent to King Constantine by the Entente. The diplomatic representatives of the allies have recommended the immediate lifting of the blockade and the stock market is recovering rapidly from the panic which gripped it.

The composition of the new cabinet, officially announced to-day, follows:

Alexander Zaimis, premier and minister of foreign affairs; General Callaris, minister of war and temporary minister of marine; Deputy George Rhallis, minister of finance; Phocian Negrila, minister of communications; Col. Haralambis, minister of the interior; Anthony Momperatos, minister of justice; Constantine Libourakis, minister of public instruction; Col. Ligas, minister of national economy.

VON FALKENHAYN HAS BEEN DEPOSED

Reported He Is Not Head of German General Staff Now

London, June 23.—General von Falkenhayn has been removed as chief of the German general staff, according to advices received here to-day.

Following the failure of Plan No. 2 for the invasion of France through Belgium, and the defeat of the Germans at the battle of the Marne, Lieut.-Gen. Count Helmuth von Moltke was succeeded as chief of the German general staff by Gen. von Falkenhayn. The choice of the latter came as more or less of a surprise to the Germans, as he had not been looked upon as a line for such early elevation.

If it be true that von Falkenhayn has been deposed his removal almost coincides in point of time with the death of the man he succeeded, as von Moltke died only last Sunday while delivering an address on the late Field Marshal von der Goltz at a service of mourning in the Reichstag.

It would appear that von Falkenhayn has been cast down owing to the costly German failure in the Verdun region and perhaps also because of the advance of the Russians. It has been stated that the plan of attempting to take Verdun, one of the most difficult points on the French line, was designed to rehabilitate the crown prince in the estimation of the German people and was sponsored by Kaiser Wilhelm. Now that it has failed, while Germany is confronted with the most critical internal crisis she has faced since the beginning of the war and the people are rioting and clamoring for food, some one lower than the Kaiser must pay the penalty and von Falkenhayn pays.

DELAY IN APPOINTING MR. LLOYD GEORGE

Would Be War Secretary Now but for Act of 1858

London, June 23.—It has just developed that the principal reason for the delay in appointing Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George to the war office is a technical one. There exists a statutory prohibition against the presence in the House of Commons of more than four "principal secretaries of state," and Mr. Lloyd George's appointment as Earl Kitchener's successor would bring the number to five. The other members of the House of Commons holding these high offices are Sir Edward Grey, Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law, Rt. Hon. J. Austen Chamberlain and Rt. Hon. Herbert L. Samuel.

Unless one of these ministers goes to the House of Lords, a rearrangement of the cabinet officers or the amendment of the act of 1858, which contains the prohibition, will be necessary before Mr. Lloyd George takes up his new office.

DELEGATES TO PARIS MET IN LONDON TO-DAY

London, June 23.—Mr. Asquith presided to-day at an important conference of those who attended the economic conference of the entente powers in Paris last week as representatives of Britain and the Overseas Dominions. Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce of Canada, who represented Canada at Paris, was among those at the meeting to-day.

GERMAN EXCHANGE IS TUMBLING; ALSO AUSTRIAN EXCHANGE

London, June 23.—The Amsterdam correspondent of the Times, telegraphs: "The rate of exchange sharply reflects the declining credit of Germany, owing to the military situation. There has been almost a panic. German exchange declined 2s. 6d. to-day (Thursday). The rate for 100 marks (value before war, $23.80), which was 44.05 florins ($18.71) on June 20, now is 40.9 florins ($18.44.)"

ARABS KNOW END OF TURKEY NEAR

See Handwriting on Wall and Taking Steps, Says London Times

DEEP WATERS AHEAD FOR YOUNG TURKS

London, June 23.—Commenting on the revolt in Arabia, the Times says: "Evidently it is the outcome of the Pan-Arab movement, which aims at the ejection of the Turks from the Arabian peninsula and the formation of a great confederation of Arab tribes. The rising has a two-fold character, however, for in addition to its political side, it undoubtedly was stimulated by growing resentment among Mohammedans against German domination of Turkey. While Turkey remained free and independent, most of the races professing the Mohammedan faith were content with her guardianship. They looked up to Turkey as the last great Mohammedan state, a revered survival of the days when the sword of Islam won widespread domination on these continents; but German control of Constantinople meant in the end German control of the holy cities."

"When the road from Berlin to Constantinople was reopened last autumn, after the overrunning of Serbia, and Turkey's independence quickly died, the Mohammedans began to feel that Turkey had finally forfeited the right to control Mecca and Medina and the pilgrimage of the pious to the sacred spots. Nowhere was resentment more bitter than in Arabia, and according to report, in Mecca itself. Oppression. "The movement which now has come to a head is largely the outcome of existing government oppression. It has been entirely spontaneous, and the present moment probably has been chosen in consequence of the successes of Grand Duke Nicholas in Armenia. The Arab leaders are exceedingly shrewd and their political argument is generally sound. They have not been misled by the British withdrawal from the Dardanelles and the unfortunate episode of Kut-el-Amara. They perceive that for Turkey the handwriting is upon the wall, and therefore have taken steps known to have been long in contemplation."

"The allies specifically announced early in 1915 that they would not interfere in Mohammedan questions of a religious character. They were wise to do so, for clearly events of this kind, affecting the custody of the holy places of Islam, will stir the whole Mohammedan world profoundly and may lead into very deep waters."

NATIONALISTS ARE MEETING IN BELFAST

More Than Acceptance of Lloyd George's Proposal Being Decided

Belfast, June 23.—The conference of the Belfast Nationalists which commenced here to-day will decide on a great deal more than the acceptance or rejection of Mr. Lloyd George's proposal. It will determine whether the Nationalist government is to be dominated in the future by the clergy or the laity. The whole future of the Nationalist parliamentary party is wrapped up in the conference. The Nationalist press is sharply divided, and the cleavage amongst the Nationalist public is no less marked.

Cardinal Logue, archbishop of Armagh, said yesterday that the circumstances of the country are very lamentable and that troubles are thickening. There is danger, he declared, that the good name of the priests of Ireland may be fished away from them, but he asserted that the suspicions which have been aroused in regard to the priests were founded on the most futile and absurd grounds.

ENEMY ATTACKED IN CHAMPAGNE; FAILED

Repulsed Last Night Between Maison-de-Champagne and Mont Tetu

ATTEMPT WAS MADE
ON 1,200-YARD FRONT

Attacks East of the Meuse Were Broken Up by French

Paris, June 23.—The Germans last night launched a heavy attack in the Champagne district. Three violent assaults on the French trenches in the region of Mont Tetu were repulsed last night after severe fighting with grenades and bayonets, according to the statement issued by the war office to-day.

West of the Meuse, in the Verdun sector, the Germans attacked Hill No. 304 and were repulsed, and there was lively infantry fighting near Dead-man's Hill. There was heavy artillery fire all night in this sector. It was particularly violent east of the Meuse along the Vaux front.

The text of the statement follows: "In Belgium a destructive fire of our batteries demolished certain organizations of the enemy in the sand dunes. In Champagne."

"In the Champagne district yesterday evening, following a bombardment of our positions between Maison-de-Champagne and Mont Tetu, the Germans delivered three attacks on our trenches along a front of about 1,200 yards. Each of these attacks was either checked by our curtain of fire or repulsed with hand grenades. Groups of the enemy which penetrated one of our advanced positions west of Mont Tetu were expelled immediately at the point of the bayonet. Ten prisoners were taken by us."

"During the night several surprise attacks against small French posts northeast of Butte-de-Mesnil were repulsed. In Verdun Region."

"On the left bank of the Meuse the Germans have renewed their efforts in the region of Hill No. 304. Two attacks with hand grenades were checked by the fire of our machine guns. "On the right bank of the river there was considerable activity on the part of the artillery along our entire front from the Meuse as far as Moulinville. This was particularly noticeable in the region west and south of Fort Vaux. Here the enemy used to a considerable extent shells which produced a gas irritating to the eyes."

"At Les Eparges a minor German attack resulted in complete failure."

German Statement. Berlin, June 23.—The repulse of three attacks by French troops against the trenches recently taken by the Germans west of Fort Vaux, northeast of Verdun, was announced to-day by army headquarters.

The repulse of several attacks by British troops east of Ypres also was reported.

POSITIONS TAKEN BY ITALIAN TROOPS

Gains Made in Arsa Valley; Pressure Maintained on Asiago Plateau

Rome, June 23.—The war office to-day issued the following statement: "In the Arsa valley we occupied new positions beyond Romini, east of the Mezzana peak, and on the Lora spur, west of Monte Pasubio. Rifles, ammunition and bombs were captured from the enemy."

"Along the Posina-Astico front there has been artillery activity on both sides."

"Attacks by enemy detachments in the regions of Ostaglia and Monte Spin were repulsed."

"On the Asiago plateau we maintained our pressure against the enemy's positions."

"In the Carnia region and on the Isonzo the artillery activity was especially intense along the upper But."

Three More Villages in Bukowina Taken By Russian Forces

Petrograd, June 23.—The Russian forces which are cutting their way through Bukowina in an effort to capture the Austrian army there have made further advances. The war office announces the capture of three villages west of Radautz, 30 miles south of Czernowitz, the occupation of which was reported yesterday. Eight hundred prisoners were taken.

WILHELM'S LETTER MORE THAN THANKS

Madrid Paper Does Not Accept Explanation Regarding Message to Alfonso

INTERNATIONAL LAW BROKEN BY SUBMARINE

Madrid, June 23.—Great interest and curiosity are manifested over the visit of the German submarine V-35 to Cartagena, bearing a letter to King Alfonso from Kaiser Wilhelm.

The daily newspaper El Liberal, is skeptical concerning the explanation that the letter is merely one of thanks for the treatment shown the Germans from Cameroon interned in this country.

The paper points out the peculiarity of the choice of a submarine to carry imperial documents and says that the commander of the undersea craft committed an offence against international law by entering the port and communicating with the German interned ship Roma before the Spanish naval authorities were consulted.

UNITS TO MEXICAN BORDER AS READY

Washington Will Not Await Completion of Mobilization in Each State

Washington, June 23.—Secretary Baker to-day issued orders to all army departmental commanders to send to the Mexican border all militia units available immediately upon their organization, without waiting for completion of the mobilization of the separate states.

The commanders were requested to notify Major-General Funston when each regiment, troop, battery or other unit completes muster. Major-General Funston will indicate where he wishes the forces sent in each instance, and the departmental commander, without further instructions from Washington, will arrange transportation and send them forward.

In Chihuahua. Washington, June 23.—Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador-designate, to-day personally informed diplomatic representatives of South and Central American republics that the Carranza troops in the state of Chihuahua were under orders not to attack American troops unless the Americans assumed the aggressive.

Mr. Arredondo stated that he acted on instructions from his foreign office. When asked whether the warning of General Trevino, the Carranza commander-in-chief in Chihuahua, that he would attack any American force moving east, west or south, had been rescinded, he said his instructions made no mention of that matter.

GERMANS MOVE MEN FROM WEST TO EAST

The Hague, June 23.—In an effort to stop the Russian advance through Galicia and Bukowina if possible, the Germans are drawing on their western front for reserves, taking men principally from the Belgian and British lines. Advices received here to-day from northern France say that 100 German troops trains yesterday passed eastward through Aix-la-Chapelle. Several trains loaded with cannon and machine guns are reported to have accompanied the big movement of troops.

300 DROWNED WHEN SHIP HIT MINE IN BLACK SEA

Petrograd, June 22.—When the Russian steamer Mercury, of 589 tons, struck a mine in the Black Sea and sank in a few minutes, about 300 persons lost their lives.

RUSSIAN TROOPS STILL PRESSING ON IN BUKOWINA IN PURSUIT OF GEN. PFLANZER'S BROKEN FORCES

Following Capture of Radautz, Town South of Czernowitz, Gen. Lechitzky's Soldiers Are Moving After the Defeated Enemy Army, Which Has Been Left by the German and Austrian General Staffs to Shift for Itself

London, June 23.—All information reaching London to-day from the Russian front was to the effect that the Germans still are hammering heavily against the armies of General Brusiloff. No attempt is being made to stem the tide of the Russian advance in the south and the Germans seem to be allowing the army of General Pflanzler to take care of itself in Bukowina, where the Russians are reported still pushing on along a wide front after their capture of Radautz, south of Czernowitz.

Little news has come through of the activities of the Russians in Northern Galicia, but unverified reports that the Austrians have arranged for the evacuation of Lemberg point to an extension of the Russian advance to that region. It now is believed the Russians in the north will simply check any offensive by von Hindenburg and that their principal blows will be delivered on the southern portion of their line of advance.

TRYING TO REGAIN AREA RUSSIANS WON

German Reinforcements From French Front Are Fighting in Volhynia

Petrograd, June 23.—The last two days have brought no essential change in the situation on the front of General Brusiloff's armies. Crossing the river Sereth, in Bukowina, General Lechitzky's forces have progressed slightly farther south in pursuit of General Pflanzler's Austrian army, but in the center and along the northern flank the Russian drive has been halted by the fierce counter-offensive of the Teutonic allies.

The defence of the Kovel-Lutsk region has been taken over entirely by German reinforcements, newly arrived from the French front, who are making a determined attempt to regain the ground lost during the first ten days of the Russian advance. One group of German forces is concentrated at Kovel, where it attempted to advance toward Kolki, but, after a sharp conflict in the neighborhood of the Stokhod river, was forced to retire by the Russians. The second group of German forces is defending the Vladimir-Volynski portion of the salient, and a third group, with headquarters at Sokal, likewise is joining in the effort to press back the extended northern flank of General Brusiloff's army.

On the other points of the front further Russian operations are being delayed by the necessity of consolidating positions already won.

MEXICO CITY NOT STIRRED BY FIGHT

News of Clash Was Received Quietly; Govt. Officials Became Busy

Washington, June 23.—Embassy dispatches to-day say that the news of the fight at Carrizal was received in Mexico City without demonstration of any sort.

"Absolute quiet prevailed in the capital, and from all outward appearances it was impossible to discern that the nation was facing a serious situation," one message said. "There was marked activity among both the civil and the military officials of the government."

Advancing the embassy of the departure from Mexico City yesterday of the special train carrying 150 Americans to Vera Cruz, the report added:

"During the last ten days 450 Americans from Mexico City and elsewhere have left, and it is not believed by consular and other officials that more than 250 Americans remain in the capital. None of those remaining expresses any apprehension regarding his safety."

In Danger. Boston, June 23.—William M. Ferris, local manager at Laguna, Declaration, Mex., of the P. A. Hearst estate, to-day wired his principals in New York:

"We are in great danger. Urgent that we receive help."

The message was forwarded from New York to representatives of other Mexican interests in Boston.

MEXICANS STOLE HORSES. Columbus, N. M., June 23.—An unofficial report has been received here that Mexicans crossed to the American side near Hachita early to-day and ran off with a number of horses and mules. American troops, according to another report, immediately gave chase and crossed into Mexico after them.

PANIC HOLDS SWAY IN LEMBERG NOW

Extending to Vienna and Budapest; Capture by Russians Foreseen

Milan, June 23.—Information from Vienna and Budapest, reaching here indirectly, is to the effect that panic reigns in Lemberg and that the exodus of the population from Bukowina and Galicia is causing the feeling of panic to extend to the Austrian and Hungarian capitals.

In order to prevent further alarming news reaching Vienna from the frontier provinces, all telegraphic and telephone communication has been stopped. Railway traffic also has been reduced and refugees prevented from pouring into Vienna and Budapest. In one week more than 100,000 refugees reached Lemberg.

The feeling there that the city will fall into Russian hands again is general.

NO CHANGE, STATES SECRETARY LANSING

No Fresh Developments of Importance in the Mexican Situation

Washington, June 23.—After a cabinet meeting this forenoon that lasted nearly two hours, Secretary Lansing said there had been no change in the Mexican situation and that a complete report on the Carrizal incident still was awaited.

San Antonio, Tex., June 23.—Whether the little fort of the 10th U. S. Cavalry under Captain Charles T. Boyd fought its way out successfully through the ring of Mexican troops which had almost surrounded it at Carrizal still was unknown at Maj.-Gen. Funston's headquarters to-day. No news from Brig.-Gen. Pershing has been received since last night's report based on the story of stragglers from Carrizal.

For Dependents. Washington, June 23.—A bill to appropriate $2,500,000 to provide aid for dependents of federal volunteers and enlisted men of the National Guards mustered into the military service of the United States was introduced to-day by Senator Lee, of Maryland, and referred to the committee on pensions. The measure would direct the secretary of the interior, co-operating with the commissioner of pensions, to make inquiry into the condition of persons dependent upon guardsmen, or upon volunteers if they should be called for, and to pay such dependents sums not to exceed $30 a month, except in extraordinary cases.

Trevino Criticizes. Chihuahua City, June 23.—Criticism of American military men, who he said, have caused all the trouble between Mexico and the United States, was made by General Jacinto Trevino, military commander of the northeast, in an interview with the Associated Press to-day.

BECKLES WILSON NOT KILLED AT THE FRONT

Ottawa, June 23.—Sir Sam Hughes denies the truth of a report that Beckles Wilson has been killed at the front. Beckles Wilson, who was the official biographer of the late Lord Strathcona, was appointed some months ago to write a history of Canada's share in the war.

Time was when some merchants vied with each other in extravagance of statement in their ads. The wise merchants of today vie with each other in the ACCURACY of their statements about goods and values. Nowadays deliberate misrepresentation in advertising would surely and quickly kill any store indulging in it.

PRODUCTION URGED BY SIR GEO. FOSTER

He and Hughes, Australia,
Spoke in London on Economic Plans.

Montreal, June 23.—"Coinciding with the publication of the resolutions adopted at the entente economic conference at Paris, the meeting at the Mansion House under the auspices of the British Empire Producers' Association created deep interests," the Gazette's London correspondent cables. "It was left to two overseas delegates, Mr. Hughes, prime minister of Australia, and Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce of Canada, to drive the lesson home."

"Sir George pointed out that the war had performed a great service in sweeping away old prejudices and bringing the nations of the empire into closer union. He hoped that when peace came there would be the same willingness and ability to banish the old controversies and disputes. He emphasized the fact that production was the only basis of trade, and that within the British empire was every variety of climate, rendering it possible to produce for all requirements. He believed in rationalization, particularly in regard to raw materials, when there was an attempt at monopoly. Referring to the sacrifices made for the military struggle, the minister thought the allies would be capable of similar sacrifices in any trade war against the central powers."

"The Australian prime minister, in his usual vigorous style, urged that the Paris resolutions be given effect by immediate organization. There must be control of raw materials within the empire, reopening of the land and inter-empire trade."

MEDIATION BETWEEN U. S. AND MEXICO SUGGESTED

Mexico City, June 23.—Costa Rica and Salvador have suggested to the de facto government of Mexico that it accept mediation to prevent war with the United States. Carranza's cabinet, it is said, is seriously considering their proposal. The war office is confident that the rebels of Mexico will accept Minister of War Obregon's offer of amnesty.

ENTENTE MADE FOUR DEMANDS OF GREECE

Full Demobilization, New Cabinet, General Election,
Change in Officials

London, June 23.—The government last night issued the full text of the entente powers' note to Greece. It contains four demands, as follows:

First, real and complete demobilization of the Greek army, which must be placed on a peace footing with the least possible delay.

Second, the immediate replacing of the Skouliodis cabinet by a business cabinet having no political or military influence, but facilitating the application of benevolent neutrality toward the allied powers and sincere consultation of the national wishes.

Third, the immediate dissolution of the chamber, followed by new elections after the period required by the constitution, and after general demobilization has restored the electoral body to normal conditions.

Fourth, replacement of certain police functionaries whose attitude, inspired by foreign influence, has facilitated attempts against peaceable citizens as well as insults against the allied legations and those under their jurisdiction.

ENEMY'S EFFORTS ON EAST FRONT FAILED

Offensives Repulsed; Russians
Gained on Strya; Pursuing in Bukovina

Petrograd, June 23.—The official statement issued last night said:

"The Germans are bombarding violently the region of the Iksul bridge-head."

"On Wednesday night, after artillery preparations, the Germans took the offensive on the front of Dwinsk, along the Poniewesch railway. They were everywhere repulsed."

"In the region in front of Dubatowka, 12 versts south of Lake Wischnie-kola, the Germans after intense artillery preparations, launched an offensive and seized a portion of our trenches. We hastened reinforcements and drove the enemy back to his own trenches."

"South of Krowp the Germans crossed the river Krowlanka. Our forces prevented their further advance and drove them back to the west bank of the river."

"On the Oginski canal and the Jaschke river there has been much artillery and rifle fire. During the day our fire brought down two German aeroplanes within our lines near the Lisopady station. Both the machines were destroyed and their pilots killed."

"In the region of Gruziatyn the enemy attacked in massed formation, but was put to flight, leaving numbers of killed and wounded."

"In the region west of Sokol, on the Strya, we repulsed by a counter attack a German offensive and captured 600 prisoners and some machine guns. In the same region the enemy's heavy artillery launched gusts of fire from the region of Myisk."

Russians Exasperated.

"The Stokhod, west of Swidnika and east of Veronchne, extremely violent fighting continues. We made no prisoners. This is explained by the exasperation of our troops, who refuse quarter to the Germans, who had been using explosive bullets. In these attacks a brave detachment of territorial reserves from Yaroslavl participated. Their commander was wounded, but refused to quit the ranks."

"On the Strya, west of Gaiwonronka, our troops captured portions of the enemy's trenches."

"We are continuing our pursuit of the enemy on the extreme left wing (in Bukovina). We have occupied Radautz and taken an additional 22 officers and 1,000 men, 3 machine guns and 27 packages of machine gun ammunition."

"On the Black Sea our torpedo boats sank five large sailing vessels and a number of small ships, with their cargoes. We took a number of prisoners. The passenger steamer Mercury came in contact with an enemy mine and sank. A number of the passengers were saved."

The steamer Mercury probably was the Russian steamer of that name, the home port of which was Odessa. She was a small vessel of 589 tons.

CANADIAN AIRMAN AWARDED THE D. S. O.

London, June 23.—Flight-Commander R. H. Muriel, of the Royal Naval Air Service, who transferred from the Canadian army in April, 1915, has been granted the D. S. O. in recognition of his services as pilot at Dunkirk.

"This officer," says the official report, "has been employed constantly at Dunkirk since July, 1915, and has displayed indefatigable zeal and energy. On several occasions he has engaged hostile aeroplanes and seaplanes, attacked submarines, carried out attacks on enemy air stations and made long reconnaissance."

BISHOP OF LOS ANGELES.

Rome, June 23.—The Rt. Rev. J. McCort, auxiliary bishop of the diocese of Philadelphia, U.S.A., has been appointed bishop of Los Angeles diocese, according to announcement by the Vatican to-day.

C.M.R. MAN DESCRIBES FIGHT NEAR YPRES

Was an Inferno; a Corporal
Used Piece of Timber
as Club

Fredericton, N. B., June 23.—That not 100 members of the Canadian Mounted Rifles brigade came through the recent terrific fighting on the Ypres salient is one of the startling statements contained in a letter just received here from Trooper Frank J. Jewett, son of ex-Ald. H. C. Jewett, who was wounded, and is now in No. 3 general hospital at Boulogne. The letter in part follows:

"I am in hospital at Boulogne suffering from the effects of the Ypres battle. I can only thank God that I am still alive. There are only about a dozen of our battalion left."

Tons of Shells.

"It started on Friday morning about 8.30. The 1st and 4th C. M. R.'s were holding the first trenches of that part of the line. Shells by the hundreds of thousands were hurled at us. In fact all the enemy's guns in the district were turned on the trenches we were holding, and they were ripped to pieces and levelled to the ground. Dead were lying everywhere. Our dugouts were all blown in, and here and there you would see feet sticking out of the ruins where the men had been buried alive."

"I do not know how I escaped. I was blown in the air several times, and by 12.30 was just about ready to hand in my checks. A young English cavalry soldier saved me. By this time I was bleeding from the nose, mouth and ears, with both eyes bugged up. The young officer asked if I was willing to take a chance and run overland. Just as he was speaking the mine went up, and all that was left of us went into the air, and Fritz came over at us."

No Rifles.

"When things had settled again we started on the run. Do not think me a coward for retreating for none of us had rifles or bayonets, and our machine guns were all broken. We started on the run for our lines, with Fritz on our heels, firing at us as he came. About a dozen of our fellows joined us as we left the trench—the remnants of our battalion."

"I do not know how I managed to get to safety. We had to run over half a mile, and I was all in when I started, but something kept spurring me on. At last we met the 6th Mounted Rifles coming to our assistance, and they stopped the enemy's advance for a few hours."

CARRANZA TROOPS SOUTH OF COLUMBUS

Small Detail Twenty Miles Away;
Threat of Some Mexican Customs Officials.

Columbus, N. M., June 23.—American scouting patrols reported to military headquarters early to-day that a small detail of Carranza troops was encamped about 20 miles south of Columbus. Efforts to determine whether the force was the advance guard of some of the forces which evacuated Juarez yesterday were futile. Although extra sentries were thrown out, no great apprehension for the safety of this camp was manifested. Mexican customs officials at the "border gap," three miles south, packed their household goods on the backs of burros to-day and disappeared over the hills in the direction of Juarez. Soldiers of the American outposts said that before leaving they threatened to return with an army and "clean up the gringos."

BRITAIN WATCHING OIL PROPERTIES IN MEXICO

London, June 23.—Inquirers at official quarters to-day in connection with the crisis between the United States and Mexico were told that Great Britain wishes to continue completely neutral in the Mexican trouble and confidently assumes that Mexico will take measures to protect the British oil properties, even if reprisals should be necessary to lead Carranza to realize the advisability of protecting the area.

The Evening Standard says: "As Washington's attitude is understood here, it is such as to reassure the oil interests."

CARRANZA WANTED ARMS FROM JAPAN

Tokio, June 23.—The Mitsui Company informed a representative of the Associated Press to-day that it recently received inquiries from the Mexican government as to whether it could supply ammunition and arms. The company replied that it was physically impossible as it had more orders than it could fill for the allies of Japan.

The Mitsui, Zakada and Okura, three large companies exporting arms, formed a joint munitions corporation before the war to purchase munitions from the government arsenal, which is the only establishment of the kind in Japan.

GROUND RECAPTURED EAST OF THE MEUSE

French Retook Greater Part of Trenches Occupied by Germans

Paris, June 23.—The official report issued last night said:

"At 6 o'clock in the evening an attack against our trenches between Hill 234 and the Bethincourt brook, west of the Meuse, was completely repulsed after very spirited fighting with grenades."

"On the right bank a counter-attack carried out by us in the afternoon enabled us to re-occupy the greater part of the elements where the enemy had gained a foothold last night between the Fumin wood and Chenols."

"The bombardment from 6 o'clock on took on a character of unprecedented violence on the north of the Thiaumont fortified works, at the Vaux wood, Chapitre and the sector of La Lauferie (one of the detached military works of Verdun)."

"Aviation. In reprisal for the successive bombardments carried out by the Germans the last few days on the open towns of Bar-le-Duc and Lunelville, our aerial squadron have executed several operations in enemy territory. On the night of June 22-23 eighteen shells were dropped on Treves, where a great fire broke out. To-day a flotilla of nine airships dropped 40 shells on Karlsruhe (in Baden, 170 kilometres from Nancy)."

British Report.

London, June 23.—The official statement given out last night said:

"Early this morning the enemy exploded an unusually large mine in the north of Givenchy, just north of La Bassée canal. The explosion was followed by a hostile bombardment of our trenches, under cover of which the enemy entered our trenches on a narrow front. Troops of the Royal Welsh Fusiliers immediately delivered a gallant and successful counter-attack, inflicting heavy losses on the enemy and driving him completely out of our positions. Considering the size of the mine and the intensity of the fire, our total losses were comparatively light. Since then the situation in this neighborhood has been quiet."

Further south, during the night (Wednesday) we exploded a mine in the Hohenoller redoubt, and occupied the lip of the crater."

As a cure for constipation Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills stand alone, for by their action on the liver they awaken the activity of this organ, cause a good flow of bile, and hence remove the cause of indigestion, for bile is nature's cathartic. System Was Full of Poison; Pains in Side and Back

Had Constipation for Many Years, but Was Entirely
Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

The most common ailment and the greatest cause of disease and suffering to-day is constipation. Artificial food and sedentary indoor life combine to induce torpid, sluggish action of the liver, kidneys and bowels. As a result poisonous waste matter remains in the system and gives rise to pains and aches and affords a starting point for serious disease.

Infectious and contagious diseases are little known to persons whose liver, kidneys and bowels are kept in healthful activity, for there are no suitable conditions for disease germs to thrive in. Even common colds usually take their start when they find the system in a constipated, poisoned condition.

Mrs. Ed. Miller, West Flamboro, Ont., writes: "I can truthfully say that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have cured me of constipation. I suffered with constipation almost ever since I can remember, and for four years had pains at the left side of the back. If I walked across the kitchen floor I would have to sit and rest. That, I think, was terrible for a woman of twenty years. The condition of my blood was shown by pimples breaking out on my face. I suffered so much from pains and stiffness in the back, I am sure my system was full of poison. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have entirely cured me, and I feel better than I have felt for many years."

As a cure for constipation Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills stand alone, for by their action on the liver they awaken the activity of this organ, cause a good flow of bile, and hence remove the cause of indigestion, for bile is nature's cathartic. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

LONDON CHRONICLE ON MEXICAN CRISIS

London, June 23.—The first comment here on the Mexican situation appeared in the morning papers to-day.

The Chronicle, noting that the American press has expressed satisfaction at Carranza's hostility and recognizing that that hostile attitude may have been stimulated by German agents, thinks that it was nevertheless bound to come anyway, sooner or later. The paper says: "Whether the fight at Carranza is the beginning of war remains to be seen, but ever since President Wilson started his interference in Mexican affairs in Huerta's time, events have been leading to that conclusion."

"If war should break out, it would be more on the lines of that in the Transvaal than any campaign now in progress. It might give the United States some trouble, but not being a war of nations to any great extent, it would scarcely affect the influence of the United States in the world conflict."

AMERICAN AIRMAN WITH FRENCH IS RECOVERING

Paris, June 23.—Hugh Balesley, an American now flying with the French air squadron, who was struck by an explosive bullet in a battle with a German machine, is now out of danger. The fragments of the explosive bullet have been removed and he is making a good recovery. Balesley has been awarded the Military Medal.

BOX CARS AT JUAREZ BURNED BY MEXICANS

El Paso, June 23.—The burning of some box cars in Juarez early to-day gave rise to reports that a large portion of the town was afire, but apparently was a precaution taken to prevent the rolling stock falling into American hands in case of a break.

BRITISH COMMENT ON ECONOMIC PROPOSALS

London Telegraph and Express Deal With Resolutions Passed at Paris

London, June 23.—The far-reaching resolutions passed at the entente economic conference at Paris, as issued by the board of trade, form the chief subject of editorial comment in the London press. The Daily Telegraph says:

"Taking a broad view of these sweeping recommendations, what is it they suggest? It is that the allies for long years to come must remain banded together by strong economic ties. That is the obvious meaning of the articles, which advocate the establishment of a direct rapid land-and-sea transport service at low rates between the allied countries, and the assimilation, as far as possible, of the laws governing patents, trade marks, etc. Germany is represented as still remaining an enemy and she can not complain, for it is in that guise that she has consistently represented herself. The allies lived for many years in a fool's paradise with respect to her commercial and political ambitions. In declaring they will do so no longer they do but follow the rule of self-preservation."

The Tariff Reform organ, the Daily Express, expresses the opinion that "even those British politicians who before the war were most enthusiastic free traders" will recognize the need of adopting the recommendations made by the conference.

Daily News.

The Daily News says: "It is to the negative or hostile side of the proposals that chief attention will be directed. The enemy countries are to be denied favored-nation treatment during a certain unspecified number of years, and it is proposed that customs duties or prohibitions of a temporary or permanent character shall be adopted. On the question of prohibition, we shall be able to judge when we know what it is proposed to prohibit. As to tariffs we do not think that an antiquated machine will be found very serviceable in practice. Our allies have tried it and have failed with it. In our hands it would be a weapon against our allies as well as against ourselves. It would offer them tariffs where hitherto were to be had free markets, but its most disastrous effect would be upon this country."

"What is the real factor that is enabling the allies to last out a war of endurance? It is the credit of one country, and that country is free trade."

Britain. It is the resources of free trade that have enabled us to bear the strain of this unprecedented struggle. It is the resources of free trade which finally will give us victory. That is the fact which parliament will have to have in mind when it comes to consider this great subject."

FRENCH GOVT. HAS CHAMBER'S CONFIDENCE

Paris, June 23.—The government has come safely out of the ordeal of the secret session, obtaining a vote of confidence by 449 to 97.

The secret proceedings, which extended over seven sittings, were welcomed by the government, which was enabled to explain its actions freely, and by its critics, who by reason of the exigencies of national defence had been unable to give particulars to support their complaints in a public session.

The vote of confidence followed. The Chamber of Deputies at a public sitting last night gave the government a vote of confidence on its policy. The vote was 454 to 89.

LEARNING ABOUT WAR.

The Cologne Gazette, the mouthpiece of the Junkers, says Germany has reached the internal crisis for which her enemies have been waiting. In other words the German people are commencing to experience something of the misery they have inflicted upon the hapless Belgians, Poles and Serbs, although they have not yet plumbed the depths of woe which followed the heel of Prussianism through their neighbors' countries. That hour will come unless Germany unconditionally surrenders, just as France unconditionally capitulated forty-five years ago, as Lee gave in to Grant after Appomattox. The German people who became delirious with joy when their armies devastated Belgium and France; who gloried in the ruthlessness of their Zeppelins and submarines against non-combatants; who regarded the rest of the world within striking distance as fair game for loot and plunder and who had come to believe that only through war could they realize their matchless destiny, are now beginning to understand what war means, to appreciate the full significance of the awful deeds wrought by their leaders in their name and with their whole-hearted support.

It is the side of the shield they never expected to see. They looked for 1876 over again, when their enemies would do the starving as the French did at Paris. There were to be more Gravelottes and Sedan, huge indemnities wrung from the toilers of France while they themselves would be virtually taxless for many generations. The Meuse would take the place of the Vosges as their western boundary. From Russia, they would tear Poland and Courland, while "Deutschland Ueber Alles" would be the watchword to the Persian Gulf and the Suez Canal. The whole magnificent programme was to be completed in six months with a loss of half a million in killed, wounded and prisoners and at a cost that would not equal one-tenth the bill their victims would have to pay.

There is not a large city in Germany in which serious food riots are not at least weekly occurrences. In Bavaria and Saxony the temper of the people is such as to endanger the imperial throne. It is at Prussia rather than at Britain and France that the Bavarian and Saxonian peoples are beginning to glare most angrily. So threatening has the sentiment become in Bavaria that the king has issued an urgent appeal to the people to be patient a little longer—mayhap until the harvest, or until Verdun is won, or until William, through King Alfonso or some other intermediary, secures an armistice, or until Austria smashes her way to Venice. The harvest is six weeks distant and people cannot live on promises for that time. They cannot digest the circulars containing Dr. von Batocki's food regulations. Moreover, the harvest will be seriously disappointing owing to the storm, and besides it cannot provide more than a small fraction of Germany's food necessities. As for Verdun, they have been promised its capture weekly for four months, just as they were promised Paris, Calais and Petrograd while Russia's blow at Austria has killed all prospects of detaching Italy from the war and opening up another source of food supply.

It is a foregone conclusion that Germany soon will seek an armistice, and it is equally certain that it will be promptly refused by the allies. Then we may look for a resumption of the German submarine campaign against non-combatants, whether of neutral or belligerent countries, for it is the only card left for William to play. But this time outrages upon their shipping will meet with a different reception from the neutrals of Europe than it met with before. Holland, Denmark and Scandinavia are now aware that Germany cannot win this war, that indeed her position is precarious and that they have little or nothing to fear from her. Holland, we are convinced, would not stand for another Tubantia incident without recourse to arms. Meanwhile the German people are slipping from the cup their leaders have held to the unwilling lips of their neighbors. They are learning a few things about war that they did not read in their textbooks or hear in the kriegspiel of their professors and their raving ecclesiastics.

RAILROAD-CONTROLLED.

Our morning contemporary describes Mr. Brewster's declaration that Liberals will not allow their party to be railroad-owned or railroad controlled as "silly twaddle." In the light of the record nobody will be surprised at the description from such a source. The happiest hours of the Colonist's career were those numerous occasions—on which it was issued as a sort of Mackenzie & Mann prospectus, with grouped pictures of Sir Richard, Sir William and Sir Donald, and yards of fulsome flattery which aroused the contemptuous amusement of even the subjects of it. As a matter of fact our contemporary cannot understand Mr. Brewster's objection to a public man holding a position of trust abandoning his convictions in the interests of corporations bent upon enriching themselves out of the public pocket. Its ideal government or newspaper must be dominated by Mackenzie & Mann, the Pacific Great Eastern or any other corporation as long as it is a railroad company. Two years ago the Colonist declared that the affairs of this province had become so inextricably tied up with those of the Canadian Northern, Pacific Railway Company that unless Sir William Mackenzie and Sir Donald Mann were given what they were asking the country would meet disaster. British Columbia, in its eyes, was merely a wheel of the Canadian Northern chariot, and it seemed to be delighted over the fact. In the case of the Pacific Great Eastern the government paid to the company nearly $7,000,000 of public funds in flagrant violation of the law and Mr. Bowser's excuse was that the credit of the country would suffer if the company's request for funds had not been complied with. This sort of thing, of course, strikes the morning paper as wholly desirable. Any protest against it is "silly twaddle." How absurd it is, indeed, that any one should object to the province being in such a position—that when multi-millionaire railroad promoters demand money the people must go into debt to raise it for them!

THE SKIRMISH AT CARRIZAL.

Official Washington is reported to hold the view that the clash between Americans and Mexicans at Carrizal could not be considered an act of war or a reason for the rupture of relations between the two countries, because it was merely an affair in which two subordinate officers were involved. This view is sound enough if it is the intention of the United States to comply with Carranza's demand that American troops be withdrawn from Mexico and to submit to a continuation of the bandit raids across the frontier. It is absurdly untenable if the United States intends to press the pursuit of Villa and ensure the protection of the lives of its citizens in New Mexico and Texas. If subordinate commanders, acting upon the instructions of the war departments of their respective countries, can engage in battle without causing a rupture of relations in the president's eyes, then, no matter how fierce or extensive hostilities may become, or how many casualties may be inflicted, war cannot develop unless Carranza either issues a declaration or calls personally at the White House and pulls the presidential nose.

The particular incident at Carrizal was undoubtedly an act of war, for it followed the formal notification from Carranza to General Pershing that any attempt of the American troops to advance or move to the east or to the west would be regarded in that light by him, and would be met accordingly. Carrizal is a point on the Mexican National Railway, and is a considerable distance east or Pershing's main base. The Mexicans at that point were under the command of General Gomez, one of the most prominent officers in Carranza's army. He no doubt was charged with the duty of holding for his government the railroad line, and may have suspected that an attempt to wrest possession of it from Mexico was on foot. The Mexicans allege that in this skirmish the Americans were the aggressors, but this is highly improbable in view of Carranza's threat to fight if Pershing's troops did not confine themselves to the narrow limits fixed by him. If Washington admits the right of the Mexicans to fire upon American soldiers every time they pass Carranza's dead-line, it places its army in a most ridiculous and humiliating position. The affair at Carrizal, far from being only a local interchange between two subordinate commanders, was the first bloody step in the enforcement of Carranza's demands.

AN EXTRAORDINARY REMARK.

In one of his speeches, as usual so highly academic that its meaning was absolutely vague, President Wilson put this question to his audience: "If the rest of the world has become insane, why have we anything to do with the rest of the world?" The reference, of course, was to the war in Europe and the position of the United States in relation thereto. The President had previously stated that he did not know anything about the cause of the war and was in doubt as to the right and the wrong of it. The inference was that, as far as the information of the President went, France and Britain and Russia were just as much at fault as Germany and Austria for precipitating the conflict, and that in the conduct of the war from the humanitarian point of view there was no choice as between the allies and the entente. Coming from the executive who was forced to call Germany to account for the Lusitania and other outrages and warn her that she would be held to "strict accountability" therefor, such statements are incomprehensible. Naturally, they have created a very unfavorable impression in France, the sister republic. The Temps of Paris says regarding it that France naturally looked to the United States for sympathy in her struggle for existence, for "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Instead of getting that from America, she is practically told by the man at the head of the nation that France, like the rest of the world, has been stricken with insanity and that if the United States is wise in her generation she will stand aloof from "the mad world." An article by Gabriel Hanotaux commenting on Wilson's extraordinary speech also has been published in the Paris Figaro. In this article M. Hanotaux tells how he had just returned from participation in a memorial service at the little church in the Avenue de l'Alma, May 26, in honor of the American soldiers who had died for France, and from placing flowers upon the statues of Washington and Lafayette, when he read these words, so bitter for Frenchmen, of the American President. The Frenchman is moved to think, in connection with all this, of the lesson, for the American democracy, of the sacrifice by the German Crown Prince of 400,000 lives at Verdun merely in an attempt to gratify the dynastic ambition of the Hohenzollerns; and of the tearing up, by Germany, of all its promises to America. In the face of this, France turns to America to learn from President Wilson that it is committing a madman's act in defending its soil against the invader! "In France we think, on the contrary," says Gabriel Hanotaux, "that in fighting for the right, for the weak peoples, for respect to treaty obligations, we are doing an act of profound wisdom; and we think also that those who express the contrary opinion, and express it in terms so rude, are not wise at all."

In connection with the graft charges formulated by Captain Worswick members of the aldermanic board have been solemnly warned that the law will pounce upon them if they don't watch out. If the names of any of the parties mentioned are so much as whispered outside of the council chamber, some party or parties unnamed immediately will institute action for libel and for personal damages. All bluff. The council is privileged in dealing with any matter affecting the interests of those it is elected to represent. The aldermen should not permit themselves to be cowed by any parties who fear exposure.

Now the Russians are accused by the Huns of barbarous treatment of Austrian prisoners. They are charged with having marched thousands of Hungarians, officers and men without respect of persons, behind their firing line clothed only in forage caps and shirts. Russians, of course, not being familiar in war time with razors and other articles of the toilet, could not appreciate the feelings of their more cultured, opponents, but they might at least have given them time to pull on their trousers.

The very balance of nature itself seems to have been upset by the convulsion in Europe and elsewhere. The strawberry crop of Vancouver Island, and of Gordon Head in particular—the best berries grown in the world—is going to be a partial failure. And the mischief of it is that other crops will be affected too. Evidently this will be a memorable year in the history of the world.

It cannot be urged against President Wilson that he has not been slow to anger. But there are instances in which "watchful waiting" cannot be justified as the best policy. Even the "humble follower of the Prince of Peace" hardly could have made more of a mess of things. Carranza is not the kind of man to be impressed with such an invocation as "God Bless You!"

The Seattle Times wants to know who kidnapped the fair-weather army of fifty thousand people which marched in the preparedness parade the other day. Not ten of those valiant demonstrators have enlisted in response to the call for recruits for the Seattle battalion of the National Guard. The idea that wars are won by parades and orations evidently is still prevalent on the other side of the international boundary line.

"A mad world, my masters," says President Wilson. Mexico is just as crazy as the rest. Why have anything to do with it? Dismiss it entirely from the presidential mind. The one thing to remember is that while nearly all the rest of the world is at war the United States has remained at peace, and that Wilson is the author and preserver of peace.

The prominence American newspapers gave to the little skirmish at Carrizal moves us to wonder what sort of a splash they would have made if their army had been in a real battle. They certainly would have had to be quadrupled in dimensions to furnish space for the headlines.

In the hour of his extremity the Kaiser appears to have turned to Spain in the hope of succor. But the probability is that the Spaniards are wise enough in their generation to keep their fingers out of such a devil's pie.

We advise the All-Highest, if we may, to keep at least one of his best submarines in reserve. He may need it to take him to a haven of refuge after this war is over.

A "big stick" might be a very useful implement properly applied at this stage in the history of a certain country.

After all, there is a very important principle involved in this question of "freedom of the streets" of Victoria to all citizens.

The morning paper refers to Mr. Brewster's statement as "silly twaddle." Just imagine—and from the Colonist of all papers!

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

A little nonsense now and then Appeals to "lured business men." Which is one reason, if you please, Why lawyers keep on getting fees.

"A little nonsense" will explain Why man so oft is filled with pain, Because his letters come to light To satisfy some woman's spite.

"A little nonsense" here and there, As doubtless you are well aware, Makes many a man regret to-day The alimony he must pay.

Lines to the Pullman Car Wash Room.

Oh wash room in a Pullman car How thoughtless all your tenants are! How different in your tiny space Appears the well-known human race From what it is in other haunts Where man has all the room he wants.

Oh wash room in a Pullman car, How sad your influences are! Why is it that when he's behind Your curtain green man grows unkind, And all his finer instincts smothered To play the hog among his brothers?

I've studied you on many a trip, I've watched your tenant with the grip That covers every inch of space Where some of us our stuff might place, And needs, that he may shave himself, The contents of a drug store shelf.

But worst of all your pests is he Who, finished dressing, will not flee, But sprawls himself upon a seat And lets men tumble o'er his feet, And though he's not had breakfast, yet Sticks till he's smoked a cigarette.

Oh wash room in a Pullman car How disagreeable men are, How thoughtless of their fellow kind When once your curtain they're behind. What is there in your narrow range That so completely men can change?

Patent Foods, Dieting and Medicines No Longer Necessary.

Many dyspeptics have discontinued the use of expensive patent foods, are eating what they please in reason yet no longer take harmful drugs, medicines and artificial dietetics to relieve their stomach trouble. Instead they just take a teaspoonful of pure bisulphated magnesia in a little water after meals, with the result that they not only save money but enjoy much better health and the stomach no longer gives them trouble. Those who have once tried bisulphated magnesia dread the approach of meal time because they know that this wonderful antacid and food corrective which absolutely does not injure the stomach and which can be obtained at little cost at almost any drug store will instantly neutralize all their excessive stomach acidity and prevent all possibility of their food souring or fermenting in the stomach. Try this plan yourself but be sure to get bisulphated magnesia as magnesia in other forms often have a strong laxative effect which is not desirable.

AT THE THEATRES

DOMINION THEATRE.

Sadly bedraggled and ragged, Mary Pickford wearily opened the heavy door, paused before the time clock, punched it, leaned heavily against the wall, wiped a tear from her half-closed eye, sighed and stumbled listlessly through the second door through which long lines of sewing machines could be seen.

"All right. Lights out!" shouted Director John O'Brien, and his assistant recorded the taking of another scene for the famous Players-Paramount production, "The Eternal Grind." It is a factory drama in which Miss Pickford plays the sympathetic and touching role of the overworked hard-driven little slave of the machine, as only the highest-paid actress in the world could interpret it. But in the character enacted by the celebrated star as the slave of the machine she is the mistress of everything else with which she comes into contact.

It is the story of an indomitable will battling against any odds with which she comes into contact. This great story which furnishes Mary Pickford with a tremendous opportunity to demonstrate her remarkable histrionic powers to the full. In support of the star there appear several notable players, among them Loretta Blake, Dorothy West, John Bowers, Robert Cain and J. Albert Hall.

ROYAL VICTORIA.

Jean Sothorn, the dainty and winsome little actress who plays Louise, the blind girl in the William Fox production of "The Two Orphans," which is the attraction at the Royal Victoria again to-day and for the balance of the week, is a real "discovery." When Herbert Brenon, the director of the production of D'Ennery's famous drama, was searching about for a "type" for Louise, an unusually difficult part to "cast," he saw a photograph of Jean Sothorn in a photographer's display case on Broadway, near the Fox offices. It was just the type he wanted, but inquiry failed to reveal the name or address of the original of the photo as the place had recently changed hands. Mr. Brenon was about to engage another actress for Louise when one night he dropped into William Fox's beautiful Riverside theatre in New York. A vaudeville act was just coming on. The name on the announcement board was Jean Sothorn. As the music struck up the original of the photograph appeared in front of the red plush drop. Mr. Brenon lost no time in seeking an interview and the result is that Miss Sothorn, who is still in her teens, decided to abandon the vaudeville stage for the screen. She is a young actress of rare emotional ability and a splendid future is predicted for her as a screen favorite.

Included on the same programme is a wonderful picture of the Dardanelles expedition taken for Ashmead Bartlett, the famous war correspondent, also a very funny comedy entitled "Betrayed by the Camera."

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

"The Redemption of Helene," a three-part Lubin, is being shown at the Majestic theatre the last three days of this week. The cast includes such stars as: L. C. Shumway, George Routh, Helen Walcott as (Helene), Mary Cruze and Ann Bront. In a small town lives Helene Trent, with whom John Allen is in love. But thinking only of herself and her career, she hastens her father's death, and uses her legacy to go on the stage. John bids her goodbye, hoping she will return to him. Helene dances at a banquet where she meets a young artist and a theatrical manager. Stuart, the artist, falls in love with her and she accepts his money and attentions. Stuart is soon in debt, and works overtime, straining his eyes. A doctor is called and Stuart's eyes are bandaged, and he is warned not to remove the bandages for some weeks. During her visits to the hospital Stuart has come to recognize Helene's walk in the hall. The manager becomes her friend and features her in a production, in her home city. After trying to induce Helene to return, Stuart receives a stinging letter, in which she tells him how she makes fools of men. The opening night arrives. Helene has a talk with the manager in her dressing room. Stuart is admitted to the theatre and overhears her declare her love for the manager. Stuart determines to see the man, and, tearing off his bandages, he boldly enters the dressing room. Then ensues a stormy scene between Helene and Stuart. He shows her the letter which she sent him. She goes into a frenzy, and he proceeds to choke her. What happens to Stuart and Helene will be seen in this exciting drama.

PANTAGES THEATRE.

There are nine girls in the Petticoat Minstrels, which are making a pronounced hit at the Pantages theatre this week, every one a dainty and refined Miss. They offer an entirely new conception in minstrelsy entitled, "The Evolution of Minstrelsy," showing that popular amusement from the colonial and plantation days to their present inimitable act.

The girls are pretty and sing and dance well. Two make up to represent the "black-face" end-men, and their work is so clever as to frequently be said to put the male comedians to shame. Nine girls, and everyone an artist. The entire act fairly bristles with novelty and is filled with bright comedy, the latest song hits, clever dancing and beautiful costumes. Special stage scenery and settings are carried to make this a real production in every sense of the word. The entire production is staged under the personal direction of Miss Dottie Claire.

The headline feature on this week's bill is Thelma's Dog and Pony Show. It is one of the fastest performing animal acts on the stage. The animals do their most difficult tricks with neatness and finish. The act is an especially popular one and is bringing many parents to the theatre purposefully that their children may have so delightful a treat.

There are two strong comedy acts on this week's bill, between which it is difficult to make a choice, so popular are both. Mae Curtis, who styles herself "The Personality Girl," presents immensely pleasing character songs and dances. Charles Semon is said to be the greatest "single" musician on the stage, which statement all the audiences have been quite ready to concede. He extracts harmony from all manner of musical instruments, and dispenses unmistakably comical comedy in a manner all his own.

Elwell and Kenyon are harmony singers with rare voices. They present a number of the latest song hits as solos and duets. They form a popular number on the bill.

The Three Rianos have a comedy acrobatic offering which they call "September Morn in Africa." They draw many a laugh, besides being acrobats of no mean ability.

The Pantages theatre is the most comfortable place in the city in which to spend two hours and enjoy the best of entertainment. The air in the auditorium is constantly changed.

The marriage was solemnized on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, 233 Fourth street, New Westminster, of Miss Jennie Geraldine Violet Latham, youngest daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Latham, to Mr. Edward W. White, B. S. A., of Victoria, who is connected with the horticultural branch of the department of agriculture. The groom is a son of Rev. J. H. White, D. D., and a grandson of the late Rev. E. White, pioneer Methodist minister in New Westminster, who arrived in this country in 1859. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. White, assisted by Rev. W. W. Abbott, B. A., of Queen's-avenue Methodist church. The bride entered the drawing-room on the arm of her brother, Mr. C. P. Latham. She was attended by Mrs. N. C. McLean as matron of honor, while the groomsmen were Mr. George B. White, B. A., of Sardis, brother of the groom. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond pendant set in platinum; to the matron of honor a brooch of whole pearls and amethyst, and to the best man a pair of cuff links. Little Miss Elizabeth Latham, niece of the bride, made a charming little flower girl. The groom's gift to her was a pearl locket, and to little Miss Vera Matheson, who opened the door for the guests, an amethyst-and-pearl brooch. Mr. and Mrs. White later left for Seattle. They will make their home in Victoria.

URGE AMERICANS AND MEXICANS CONFER

Members of American Union Against Militarism Suggest Meeting at El Paso

New York, June 23.—A movement to call a conference of American and Mexican citizens at El Paso in an effort to avert war with Mexico was announced to-day by the American Union Against Militarism. The union's executive committee, after an all-night session, sent telegrams to W. J. Bryan, Dr. Starr Jordan and Frank P. Walsh, of Kansas City, urging them to proceed at once to El Paso and offering to defray their expenses, which, it was stated, would be met by a fund to be raised "by voluntary contributions from Americans and Mexicans alike."

Similar telegrams were sent to Dr. A. L. editor of a Mexico City weekly; Luis Manuel Rojas, director of the National Library at Mexico City; and Modesto Orneland, a Mexican engineer in New York.

No date was set for the suggested meeting. The purposes of the union, it is stated, are not only to delay hostilities, but to promote mediation and relieve the situation along the border.

It was announced that telegrams had been sent also to the ambassadors of the A. B. C. powers urging them to press for mediation and to endeavor to influence General Carranza against war.

Others in the movement are Oswald Villard, Amos Pinchot, Lincoln Steffens, Lillian D. Wald, Dr. A. J. S. Slaughter, of Philadelphia, and others.

MEXICAN CRISIS AS VIEWED IN BRAZIL

Rio Janeiro, June 23.—The crisis between Mexico and the United States is being followed with keen interest in Brazil, and occupies a large space in the newspapers. The general tone of the editorial comment is that President Wilson, while actuated by the best motives, has run afoul of preponderant elements in Mexico, which are under German influence.

In official circles hope is expressed that war will be averted, but it is fully recognized that the continued disorders in Mexico must end in wearying the most sincere well-wisher of the country. There is a general agreement that some end must be put to the present intolerable situation so that the pacific development of the peoples of America may be assured.

Dr. Lauro Muller, Brazilian minister of foreign affairs, received the diplomatic corps to-day in a farewell audience. He will sail for the United States to-morrow on the steamship St. Paul.

CONTRACT FOR C. N. R. TERMINALS AT VANCOUVER

Winnipeg, June 23.—M. H. Macleod, general manager of the C. N. R., will award the contract for the new terminals to be erected at Vancouver in the course of a day or two. Tenders closed on Thursday last and a large number of bids have been received. Mr. Macleod is waiting over the week-end in order to allow bids from the coast to reach his office.

WINNIPEG TAXES.

Winnipeg, June 23.—Winnipeg will raise $2,992,160.17 by direct taxation during the present fiscal year, and $469,973.15 on capital account. These figures will be recommended for final adoption at the meeting of the council on Monday night. The city hall authorities expect that the taxation will be between 15.5 and 16 mills, as predicted for some weeks, but until the civic assessment figures are submitted and the Winnipeg equalized assessment is known, the rate cannot be determined definitely. The civic patriotic fund levy of $1,500,000 will be based on the equalized total.

10,000 ORDERED TO MEXICAN BORDER

Troops From Chicago and San Francisco Areas Soon as Possible

Washington, June 23.—Hope persisted among the officials here to-day that war against Mexico would not become necessary. Dispatches from Mexico City indicated that leaders in the Carranza government may show a similar attitude and will seek to avoid the threatened break.

The outlook was far from bright, however, and orders had been issued for the transportation of 10,000 National Guardsmen to the border from central and western states as soon as they are ready for service.

Army officers looked to-day for the delayed report from Brig. Gen. Pershing on the fight between Carranza troops and American cavalry at Carrizal on Wednesday.

The tension was not lessened by an official report to the navy department that there had been no provocation by Americans for the attack on a boat from the gunboat Annapolis at Mazatlan on Sunday.

The war department was trying to hasten the mobilization of the state militia to-day. State governors were given orders to send immediately a statement of when their troops would be ready for service. Secretary Baker issued orders last night to Major Gen. Barry, at Chicago, and Major Gen. Bell, at San Francisco, commanders respectively of the central and western army departments, asking that the first 5,000 of the militia units in each department ready for service be dispatched to the border.

Interest was expressed by officials of the war department in the unofficial report that Villa is at Escalon, Chihuahua state, negotiating with the Carranza government for amnesty and a commission in the Mexican army.

Officials are worried over the delay in getting news from the surviving officers of the little 10th Cavalry detachment which engaged a superior force of Mexicans. Brig. Gen. Pershing said he hoped to have a report from surviving officers by courier during the day. Secretary Baker denied rumors of

"ANURIC!" THE NEWEST DISCOVERY IN CHEMISTRY

This is a recent discovery of Doctor Pierce, who is head of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y. Experiments at Doctor Pierce's Hospital for several years proved that there is no other eliminator of uric acid that can be compared to it. For those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation—as backache, scalding urine and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, it is simply wonderful how surely "Anuric" acts. The best of results are always obtained in cases of acute rheumatism in the joints, in gravel and gout, and invariably the pains and stiffness which so frequently and persistently accompany the disease rapidly disappear.

Go to your nearest drug store and simply ask for a 50-cent package of "Anuric," manufactured by Dr. Pierce, or send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce for a large trial package. If you suspect kidney or bladder trouble, send him a sample of your water and describe symptoms. Doctor Pierce's chemist will examine it, then Dr. Pierce will report to you, without fee or charge.

NOTE:—French scientists affirm that "Anuric" is thirty-seven times more active than lithia in eliminating uric acid, and is a harmless but reliable chemical compound that may be safely given to children, but should be used only by grown-ups who actually wish to restore their kidneys to perfect health, by conscientiously using one box—or more in extreme cases—as "Anuric" (thanks to Doctor Pierce's achievement) is by far the most perfect kidney and bladder corrector obtainable.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets are the original Little Liver Pills. One Little Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic.

TRIAL OF FORMER MAN. MINISTERS' SOON

Winnipeg, June 23.—The trial of the three former provincial ministers on charges of conspiracy to defraud the province will be started immediately after the conclusion of the present trial of Thomas Kelly, which is expected sometime next week. R. A. Bonnar, K. C., crown counsel, stated to-day that he had so informed Thomas Kelly in response to his request for information as to the probable date for his trial on the perjury charge in connection with evidence before the public accounts committee. The perjury trial will follow the disposition of the charges against the ex-ministers.

This forenoon's session of the Kelly trial on charges of theft, receiving and false pretences was entirely taken up with the evidence of William Salt, who acted as inspector for the government on the calsons and whose subsequent travels across the border were the subject of sensational revelations before the Mathers Royal Commission last summer.

Salt's "little black books" in which he kept records of the depth of the calsons were produced and identified. He said he had kept this record for V. W. Horwood, then provincial architect. While the public accounts committee of the legislature was sitting early in 1915 Horwood had told him the calsons records "would have to be doctored." Horwood had asked him to make a fresh book and Salt had started one. Horwood then had said these fresh records did not show a sufficient depth, and Salt had begun a second altered book, Horwood assisting. The next morning Salt had notified Horwood that he refused to make any more alterations, and that if he were called before the committee he would not stand behind the records. The next day Horwood had given him $300 and advised him to take a little holiday in the States. His purpose in altering the books was to justify the payment of about $300,000 for calsons.

CARRANZA SENT NOTE TO GOVT. OF PERU

Lima, Peru, June 23.—A long note from the Mexican minister of foreign affairs, setting forth the opinion of the Mexican government—that war with the United States was inevitable on account of the methods employed by the American government, was received at the foreign office to-day. The note pointed out that all the republics of Central and South America would be affected by a conflict.

The Peruvian government returned a carefully-worded reply, couched in friendly terms and expressing the hope that peace would be maintained.

BIG ENOUGH FOR HIS JOB.

We do not admit that a more impulsive and imperious man than Mr. Asquith would have done better for the country. It is just in his patience, his coolness of judgment, his capacity to take the people with him, that he has shown political genius and proved himself to be the man for the hour. A prime minister who had tried to rush the country against its habits and convictions at the beginning of the war would almost certainly have landed us in disaster. Let the critics and the grumblers say what they will, what has been accomplished is simply staggering, both in its efficiency and its magnitude. And behind it all there is a united people.—London Inquirer.

The Country gentleman tells this story about the absent-minded professor: He had gone to the barber's for a shave; after the operation he continued to occupy the chair; the barber thought he must have fallen asleep, and respectfully asked whether this were so. "No, my good man," he said. "I am not asleep. The act is I am frightfully near-sighted. When I took my glasses off I was no longer able to see myself in the mirror opposite. Naturally I supposed I had already gone home."

CALIFORNIA COMET WILL INVADE EAST

Philadelphia, June 23.—Word has been received here that Maurice McLoughlin, the California comet, will come east for the Newport tennis tournament and the championship. Among tennis officials it has been doubted that McLoughlin would come east. This skepticism was based upon his statement that he had been bothered by a sore arm and that he would not take part in the national championship unless he felt sure his arm was in perfect condition.

ZIMMERMAN INJURED.

Chicago, June 23.—Chicago's hopes of a pennant for the Cubs went glimmering when Heinie Zimmerman, the Cub third baseman and field captain, who was also their star batsman, fell down the steps of his residence here and broke his shoulder.

Zimmerman will be out of the game for the rest of the season.

WILL COBB RETAIN BATTING SUPREMACY?

It Will Be No Feathery Undertaking to Dislodge Speaker This Year

For nine years Ty Cobb has ruled the game, as emperor of swat. To-day there is a shadow across the throne—a shadow cast by the bulky Apache of the Cleveland Indians. Cobb has had keen rivalry to face before, but if he is to lead his league ten years in a row he has the hardest man to overthrow that he has ever faced.

Cobb started the present week batting .322. But Speaker has moved up to .380, having run up eight hits in two games for a healthy average. This margin would not be hard to cut down with almost anyone else in the lead. But Speaker is another matter. The Cleveland star is more determined to lead the field this season than he has ever been before. He is fighting harder, hustling harder than he ever did in his career. And it is not at all unlikely that to beat the Texan Cobb will have to finish the rest of the season around .400, and even this clip might not be fast enough.

Three or four years ago Cobb found himself late in August about 20 points below Joe Jackson, who was then batting over .400. Jackson finished the year above .400, but the Georgia Ghost beat him out for all that.

For about a month Ty Cobb the Terrible averaged something like two hits a day until he was well in the lead again. Cobb thrives on keen opposition. But there is a chance that he may find in Speaker a hurdle that cannot be jumped. For the job of spotting Speaker ever 50 points is no feathery undertaking.

The soggy statistics show that so far Speaker is the leading hitter, the farthest from distance slugging and the leading run getter of the game. So Tris now holds three jobs that once belonged to Ty and it will be interesting to see how fast the Tiger can move, once he starts forth to collect his own.

BEAVER PITCHER IS WILD AND LOSES

San Francisco, June 23.—Charley Cutler is here from Chicago to prepare for his wrestling bout next Tuesday night with Ad Santel. The articles of the match provide for the best two out of three falls.

A win for Santel over Cutler will place him up in the front rank of wrestlers. If Ad is victor he probably will be matched with the winner of the Joe Stecker-Stranger Lewis bout, scheduled for Omaha July 4.

CRIMSON TRIUMPHS IN THRILLING RACE

Harvard Crews Score Double Victory Over Yale in Annual Regatta

Regatta Course, New London, June 23.—The Harvard freshmen won a thrilling victory over Yale in their two-mile race over the Thames course today. Overtaking the Yale men in the last half mile, the Crimson oarsmen flashed into the front, and slid over the finish line three-quarters of a length ahead of their rivals. Yale led until near the finish when her crew seemed to tire and go to pieces. The race was rowed in rough weather. The official time, Harvard, 10:36 3-5. Yale, 10:38.

The Harvard oarsmen also took the second contest of the day, defeating the Yale second varsity crew in a two-mile race by two lengths. The unofficial time of the winner was 10:20.

Hanns Kolehmainen, the Finnish paratrooper, who joined the Fourteenth National Guard Regiment, of Brooklyn, in order to run in their track team, has been called out for Mexican duty along with the rest of the regiment. Hanns has decided not to respond, and his brother, William, says the famous runner was assured when he joined that all he would have to do would be to take part in athletic games. Capt. Jackson announced that Kolehmainen would be court-martialed unless he reported for duty.

CANADIAN CHAMPION MAY MEET WELSH

Joe Bayley, lightweight champion of Canada, has received an offer from the Nanaimo Athletic Club to meet Freddy Welsh in the Coal City, when the latter comes out this way on his tour of Canada. Welsh will meet the best the country has on this tour. Starting in the east he will work westward, fighting in all the important cities on his way. Joe is in good shape now and if the arrangements for the Nanaimo fight are completed, he will be in the condition to give Welsh the hardest battle he will have on his trip.

BAKER CUP COMPETITION.

Tacoma, June 23.—The women of the Tacoma Country and Golf club and the Seattle Golf club halved their match upon the links of the Tacoma club. The trophy offered for competition was the John S. Baker cup, and had the Seattle players won they would have come into permanent possession of the trophy.

Twice before the Seattle women carried off the honors, winning the first match on the Tacoma course and the second on their home links. Under the ruling adopted this third meeting will go as no contest and the next meeting will be in September.

Frisc Four-rounder Changes Mind and Will Not Meet Willie Ritchie.

San Francisco, June 23.—Fight fans here were disappointed when it was announced that Willie Hoppe had flatly refused to meet Willie Ritchie at Daly City to-night in a scheduled four-round bout. After agreeing to the match, Hoppe, it is charged, suddenly changed his mind and refused to fight.

Bob McAllister and Willie Meehan, who are down on the Daly City card, are rounding into shape for their go. Five other contests will be staged. BOXING GAME IS ON THE DECLINE

Veteran Lays Blame at Door of Promoters and Fighters Themselves

"It begins to look like it's good-night boxing, as we used to know it, unless some radical changes take place," said Harry Krause, an old-time boxer, as he chatted reminiscently with a few friends after his return from the mining districts of Idaho, where he witnessed and promoted several short-distance bouts.

"Yes, the old game is dying fast under the influence of some of the poor excuses that are nowadays passing for champions and near-champions," continued Krause. "Yet the fighters themselves, or rather our present lack of fighters, are solely to blame for the growing decay of the game. With the possible exception of Kid Williams, the Baltimore bantam, we haven't what I would call a legitimate champion to-day. Of course, you might include the gigantic, lumbering Mr. Jess Willard, if for no other reason than that he had the heart and courage to stand up before that relic of the disputation, Jack Johnson, and lift the heavyweight crown from the brow of that disgraceful scamp and bring it back to the white race.

"But look at the rest of our accepted champions. There isn't a fighter in the whole bunch. There's Johnny Kilbane, the feather champ. He, like the others, is a decision-champion. He didn't even knock poor Abe Attel out when he wrestled the title from the clever little chap. Featherweight champions of the popular knockout kind seem to have gone out of vogue when Terry McGovern, the Brooklyn terror, began to tread the primrose path that led to his downfall.

"The condition in the lightweight class is even worse than in the featherweight ranks. We have lots of fairly good lightweight, but I must accept Joe Gans and Bat Nelson as the last two men who deserved the title undisputed. Nelson took the laurels from the old chocolate-colored master after three of the most grueling battles in ring history. Then Nelson, a battered physical wreck, almost deaf from severe punishment, released the championship of Ed Wolgast after 40 rounds of milling, during which the

MONTHLY MEETING OF THE WELCOME CLUB

Proposed to Erect Arch on Government Street; Cooperation of Public Asked

The regular meeting of the Welcome Club was held at the city hall last night with Mayor Stewart presiding, and methods were discussed of getting the members of the club and the public to take more interest in the return of soldiers from Europe. It was suggested that a large welcome arch should be erected on Government street at the post office, bearing a dial on which would be indicated the day and the hour of the arrival of soldiers. By this form of advertising it was thought there would be larger attendance at the wharf to welcome the men. The arch proposed would be light in construction and decorated with cedar bough, flags and flowers. It would be the privilege of any person who felt so inclined to assist in the decoration with flowers which would have to be replenished frequently.

The suggestion was given favorable consideration and will be discussed again at the next meeting of the club.

Another suggestion offered was from W. H. Price, that the brewery whistle be blown at 1 o'clock on each day soldiers are expected here. This public announcement would bring to the minds of many who would not otherwise know of the fact that soldiers were coming, and many people would be enabled to attend at the wharf and assist in the welcome. John Day, the secretary of the club, and Deputy Chief of Police Palmer were appointed to interview the manager of the brewery and ask that the whistle be blown. A complaint was heard that notices announcing that soldiers were returning had been posted without authority and as a consequence people had gone to the wharf only to find there were no soldiers to be welcomed. To avoid this in the future, the secretary was instructed to interview all who posted notices and ask them not to do so until he had issued the announcement that soldiers were coming. Arrangements had been made whereby notice was received by wireless from the ships when there were returned soldiers on board, and on receipt of this the secretary always advised those who post the notices conspicuously.

Mrs. Bevan, who has been treasurer of the club, sent in her report of the finances, accompanied by her resignation. The report was laid over until the next meeting and a committee, consisting of the mayor and Mr. Forrester, was appointed to see Mrs. Bevan and ask her to withdraw her resignation. It was felt that her continued service in the interests of the club would be very valuable.

The Welcome Club meets on every fourth Thursday night of the month and the hope was expressed last night that at the next meeting there will be a much larger attendance. The meetings are open to all persons who desire to take an interest in the work, either publicly or privately, and can lend assistance to furthering the objects of the club.

SPECIAL SERVICE TO CAMP AT SIDNEY

Companies Will Give Return
Rate of 50 Cents; Arranging Schedules

In view of the military camp opening at Sidney on Monday next the railway companies are busy changing the train schedules and arranging a soldiers' transportation rate between the camp and the city. There are two services to the camp, those of the B. C. Electric Company by electric car, and the Victoria & Sidney Railway Company.

It is understood that both companies will be operated on a similar fare for soldiers. The B. C. Electric Company has made a reduction for soldiers of 15 cents on the return fare to Saanich, and will carry the men for 50 cents for the return trip. They also can ride to Tripp station, the regular fare for which is 85c. There will be a reduction on the fare to this station also by the B. C. E. R., an official said this morning. The soldiers can get the train three quarters of a mile from the camp.

The Victoria & Sidney railway officials say their line operates right to the camp. It is understood that this line will make a 50c. return fare for soldiers. The manager of the company, F. Van Sant, is now in Seattle making arrangements for the business of carrying the soldiers, and is endeavoring to bring more equipment here. Neither company has yet announced the new schedule to be effective during the camp at Sidney, but both companies are working out the time table, and an announcement from the B. C. E. R. probably will be made late today or to-morrow.

The camp will open on Monday, when the 102nd and the 143rd from this city and the Highland Battalion from Vancouver will assemble there.

CAMPAIGNERS TO DO RECRUITING

Veterans of Empire's Wars
Will Take Part in Parade
To-morrow Afternoon

To-morrow afternoon the British Campaigners' Association will hold a recruiting rally for the 143rd Battalion, the B. C. Bantams. The veterans, who have fought on many a field and are members of the British Campaigners' Association, consider that though age bars them from again taking their place in the field, they can do their bit by assisting the work of recruiting, and they will hold a recruiting parade.

Headed by the bugle band of the Bantams, in the absence of the battalion band which is on the mainland with the recruiting detachment marching up the Fraser valley, the Campaigners will take part in a procession. The van will be formed by motor cars in the first of which will be the oldest local veterans, men who fought at Alma and Inkerman in the Crimean campaign of 1855, and in the Indian mutiny shortly after that historic campaign. George Millett, one of the number who wears the medals for the Mutiny campaign during which he took part in that gallant defence of Lucknow, will recite "Jessie's Dream," when the parade reaches the recruiting office of the Bantams at the corner of View and Broad streets. W. J. Edwards, secretary of the British Campaigners, is also arranging with some well known local men to make short recruiting addresses. The parade will start shortly after 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

CANADIAN ENGINEERS

Sergt. Evans Here to Sign on Men for 6th Field Company.

The 6th Field Company, Canadian Engineers, having received instructions to recruit and send forward 500 men immediately, affords the best opportunities possible for men of all trades, especially bridgemen, timber and steel carpenters and all skilled workmen, also horsemen, drivers and riders. Men joining now can leave within the next two or three weeks. Those enlisting in the Canadian Engineers will be associated with men of their own trades, will be employed at work to which they are accustomed and understand, and will gain an experience which will be helpful to them when the war is over. The amount of drill in this corps is limited—sufficient to enable men to be moved smartly and correctly under words of command, the great thing being ability to do things. This should appeal especially to tradesmen, woodmen and others accustomed to life in construction work, and men from the north.

Sergt. Evans, of the 6th Field Company, is in Victoria to-day and to-morrow for the purpose of signing on men. He is at the Dominion hotel and he will answer any question and give all information.

MRS. WINSBY ARRIVES.

The Weekly Chronicle of June 3, published by the 47th Battalion at Bramshott, contains the following:

Last Sunday, after an exceedingly pleasant sea voyage, Mrs. (Colonel) W. N. Winsby, with her little daughter and infant son, arrived in England. Lieut.-Col. Winsby was at Liverpool to meet his wife, who had journeyed from Victoria, British Columbia, via New York on the steamship Philadelphia, to be with him.

Naturally, after weeks of travel, Mrs. Winsby was delighted to reach her new (if temporary) home, and a royal welcome and reception awaited her at the Thirlestone hotel, on her arrival at Bramshott.

The colonel and his lady have rented "Hillview," Grayshott, where with her winsome, pretty little sister, Miss Thelma Lindsay, who crossed the seas with her, Mrs. Winsby has taken up her abode.

The 47th hope to have the colonel's wife present when straining some of our sister regiments at football, baseball, sports, et alia.

RECOGNITION FOR THE TRENCH FIGHTER.

Above all, our patient, heroic infantry should receive some honor and recognition—"the red badge of courage"—for their pre-eminent sacrifices. In the German army the infantry take precedence of all other arms. They march first on field days; they hold the place of honor in the German army list. It is not suggested here that we should change our system. But to every infantryman who has endured the agony and travail of six months' work in the trenches a special ribbon and medal should surely be given, and for each further six months a bar be added. Those who know what service in the trenches means—and the whole army knows—will agree that never was honor better merited in any age of war or in any campaign that men have ever made.—London Daily Mail.

STEAMER EXCURSION TO COWICHAN BAY

C. P. R. to Operate Princess
Mary in Connection With Dominion Day Regatta

It was announced by the C. P. R. to-day that the customary Dominion Day steamer excursion to Cowichan Bay in connection with the regatta will be operated as usual this year, the steamer Princess Mary having been selected to take advantage of this increasingly popular cruise.

Owing to conditions created by the war the company abandoned the idea of an excursion to Cowichan Bay last year, this being the first time the cruise had been eliminated in many years. Only a limited number of excursion tickets will be sold, the capacity of the Princess Mary on this occasion being cut down to 500 persons. The steamer will leave the Belleville street wharves at 9 a.m. on Saturday, July 1, arriving at Cowichan Bay three and a half hours later. The excursionists will be permitted to remain ashore six hours at the pleasure resort, the return trip being scheduled for 5:30 p.m., arriving back in port about 9 p.m. The round trip fare will be $1. In view of the many inquiries made regarding the Cowichan trip it is anticipated that the entire accommodation of the Princess Mary will be sold out for the Dominion Day excursion.

GOVERNOR SOUTHBOUND.

On her southbound trip to San Francisco the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's liner Governor is due to arrive here from Seattle at 5 p.m. to embark passengers for the south. Among those taking passage by the Governor from this port are: C. S. Templeton, C. Hansen, Mrs. T. B. Mooney, Mrs. Hind, Miss Nita Hind, Miss Brown, Mrs. A. K. Klalber, Mrs. Woods, Miss Isabel McGuire, and C. H. Richardson.

STANLEY DOLLAR OUT.

The Robert Dollar Company's steam schooner Stanley Dollar, which recently discharged a shipment of sulphur here from the Orient, passed out yesterday from Vancouver for San Francisco.

CHICAGO MARU SAILS.

The Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Chicago Maru is due to arrive in port from Seattle about 5 p.m. to-day and after taking aboard passengers will leave on her outward voyage to Yokohama and Hongkong.

TITAN IS COMING ON LAST VOYAGE

Blue Funnel Liner Will Be Replaced by Proteus in Trans-Pacific Service

Dodwell & Co., general agents for the Blue Funnel line, were to-day advised by cablegram from the Orient that the steamship Titan left Yokohama June 20 with approximately 10,000 tons of general cargo for North Pacific ports. The Titan is scheduled to arrive here on July 4. She is bringing in 300 tons for Victoria, 500 tons for Vancouver, 3,000 tons for Seattle, 700 tons for Tacoma and Portland, 1,500 tons for San Francisco and 2,000 tons for overland points. Her raw silk shipment amounts to 1,250 bales, valued at $625,000. In her stowage quarters the Titan has 123 Chinese passengers, of whom 73 are destined for Canadian points via Victoria and 50 for the United States.

The present trip of the Titan marks her last inward voyage in the trans-Pacific service of the Blue Funnel line, the company, as previously announced, having decided to replace her on the run by the big liner Proteus, which will shortly come out to this coast by way of the Panama canal.

After she has completed discharging her inward cargo at British Columbia and Puget Sound ports, the Titan will head at Seattle and Tacoma for the Orient, touching at this port on the way out to sea to pick up steamer passengers and mail. From Hongkong she will be dispatched to the United Kingdom. The company's trans-Pacific service will be maintained by the liners Ixion, Talthybius and Proteus.

Word has been received here that the Titan is coming out here with a new crew, shipped at Hongkong, which would indicate that Capt. Read and his officers have been transferred to another ship while on the other side of the Pacific.

Talthybius Is Outbound.
Having been delayed several hours through the resumption of the longshoremen's strike on the Sound, the Blue Funnel liner Talthybius reached port about noon to-day from Seattle on her way out to the Orient. Twenty Chinese passengers and considerable mail were shipped here when the liner left for Yokohama and Hongkong. She is laden with approximately 15,000 measurement tons of cargo, the bulk of which was loaded at Seattle and Tacoma.

EMPRESS OF ASIA RUNNING ON TIME

With Another Large Passenger List; C. P. R. Greyhound Is Due Dominion Day

Carrying another huge list of passengers in her saloon, the Canadian-Pacific Ocean Services liner Empress of Asia, Captain Wellesley Davidson, R. N. R., is again on passage from Yokohama for this port. After a run of nine days from the Japan coast the big liner is expected to reach Victoria on Dominion Day, July 1. When the liner Empress of Japan left the Orient it was reported that the entire cabin space aboard the Empress of Asia had been taken up two weeks ahead of her date of departure from Hongkong.

The C. P. R. greyhounds Asia and Russia cannot be approached by anything on the Pacific for accommodation, luxuriousness and speed, and these factors have resulted in this line securing the bulk of the better-class travel on this coast. Owing to the phenomenal first class bookings, the company has been forced to utilize part of the second class accommodation of these great liners on recent trips in order to handle the business offering.

On her first trip here after being released from the admiralty service, the Empress of Russia brought in 303 saloon passengers, thus establishing a new record for the Pacific, but on the succeeding trip the Empress of Asia eclipsed this performance, only to be again beaten by her sister liner last voyage with 320 saloon travelers. From the many inquiries being made at the company's offices on both sides of the Pacific regarding the sailings of these palatial ships, it is expected that capacity lists will be carried on the east-bound voyages until the fall.

The liner following the Empress of Asia in the C. P. R. service will be the intermediate boat Montague, which is posted to leave Hongkong next Wednesday.

The Empress of Japan, now at Vancouver, is due to leave Victoria next Thursday on her outward trip to the Far East. She will be under the command of Capt. W. Dixon-Hopcraft, R. N. R., her former master, who is returning to duty after a lengthy furlough.

HANDLING MUCH FREIGHT

C. P. R. Has Three Steamers Now Crossing the Pacific in Cargo Service.

Indicating the enormous amount of freight now being handled by the C. P. R. in its trans-Pacific service, three freight steamers chartered by the company are now en route across the Pacific. They are the Norwegian steamer Strinda, the Danish steamer Arabien and the Japanese steamer Unkal No. 5. The latter vessel was formerly the Robert Dollar, and is paying her first visit to this coast under the Japanese flag.

BARRISTER AT VANCOUVER.

The Harrison Direct Line steamer Barrister left Nanaimo yesterday after taking on bunkers for Vancouver, for which port she has several hundred tons of inward cargo. When she has completed at the Terminal City the Barrister will shift to Seattle and Tacoma to load for the homeward voyage via the Panama canal. The Counselor will be the next Harrison ship to arrive on the coast.

GRAIN FOR CALLAO.

The former Union Steamship Company steamer Melmore, laden with a full cargo of grain shipped at Vancouver, recently purchased by Dingwall & Co., is due to leave Vancouver on Sunday for Callao.

TAKES CRACK AT CANADIAN LINES

American Objects to Manner in Which Steamship Companies Operate Alaska Services

A direct crack at the C. P. R. and G. T. P., both of whom have entered the Alaskan tourist trade this year on a large scale, can be gathered from a dispatch from Washington which reads as follows:

"Legislation to aid American ships in procuring passenger traffic from Pacific Coast stations to Alaska was passed to-day from the Senate commerce commission by G. S. Grosscup, of Tacoma, Wash. He said Canadian lines were evading the law against foreign ships engaging in the American coastwise trade, by carrying passengers from ports in the Pacific Coast states to Canadian ports and transferring them to other ships for the rest of the Alaskan trip."

In a way Mr. Grosscup's contention is correct, but he evidently underestimated the far-sightedness of the men in control of the Canadian steamship companies, and took the matter to Washington. The Canadian steamship men, however, looked into the matter thoroughly before entering this service, and as a result no tickets are sold in Seattle or any other United States port for Alaska. The tickets are sold from Seattle to Victoria, Vancouver or Prince Rupert, as the case may be, and then another ticket is issued from these ports to Skagway. There is nothing in the coastwise laws at present to interfere with the C. P. R. and G. T. P. service to Alaska. A ruling on the legality of carrying such passengers from Seattle to Skagway was secured from Washington before the companies started to operate in the Alaska tourist trade.

INCREASED SAILINGS ON ATLANTIC ROUTE

More Normal Service With Release of Many Steamers From Admiralty Control

According to the latest lists compiled by local steamship agents, over fifty trans-Atlantic sailings from Montreal and New York for the United Kingdom are scheduled for the months of July and August, making the largest list of sailings within a given time since the outbreak of war. Recently a large number of passenger steamers were released by the British admiralty, with the result that the Atlantic services have been considerably augmented.

The following sailings, which are subject to cancellation, are announced: Metagama, from Montreal, July 1; St. Paul, New York, July 1; Ascania, Montreal, July 1; Cameronia, New York, July 1; Andania, New York, July 1; Lapland, New York, July 5; Athenia, Montreal, July 6; New York, New York, July 6; Nieuw Amsterdam, New York, July 8; Grampian, Montreal, July 8; Pretorian, Montreal, July 8; Orduua, New York, July 8; Alaudia, New York, July 8; Sicilian, Montreal, July 15; Philadelphia, New York, July 15; Ausonia, Montreal, July 15; Tuscania, New York, July 15; Finland, New York, July 19; St. Louis, New York, July 22; Missanabia, Montreal, July 22; California, New York, July 22; Saxonia, New York, July 22; Baltic, New York, July 26; Principello, Montreal, July 26; Ryndam, New York, July 29; Scandinavian, Montreal, July 29; Corinthian, Montreal, July 29; Paul, New York, July 29; Carpathia, New York, July 29.

FOR PATRIOTIC FUND.

Toronto, June 22.—The officers and employees of the Grand Trunk Railway system are about to send another large contribution, amounting to over $20,000, to the Canadian Patriotic fund, representing one day's pay voluntarily given by each servant of the company from wages for the month of May. Up to January 1, 1916, the Grand Trunk employees had contributed $135,000 to the patriotic fund, and they have decided this year to give one day's pay each quarter towards this national work. With over 8,000 men from the system fighting at the front, the company has paid out of its revenues from the beginning of the war nearly one million dollars in war pay to its employees and kindred charges. In place of the six months' pay previously given to each Grand Trunk railway company is now giving $10,000 each month to the patriotic fund, this being in addition to the amounts contributed by its men.

CHELOHIN FOR NORTH.

The Union steamer Chelohin arrived here at 3 p.m. to-day on her first northbound trip from Seattle under the new G. T. P. schedule. A number of passengers boarded the ship here for the North. The Chelohin sailed about 3:30 p.m. for Prince Rupert and Anxoy via Vancouver.

URGE FEDERATION TO ESPOUSE CAUSE

Meanwhile Mediation Conferences Will Be Resumed Between Two Factions

San Francisco, June 22.—With the resumption of the strike of Pacific coast longshoremen, interest was focused to-day on the stand to be taken by the waterfront workers' federation, including all of the maritime unions. The longshoremen are urging the federation to espouse their cause, thus far without apparent result. The executive committee of the federation and strike committee of the riggers and stevedores union held an informal meeting last night, but no action was taken and it was announced another meeting would be held to-morrow.

The police here, at Seattle and other ports were on the alert for disorders to-day, but from all points affected by the strike came reports of quiet conditions.

THE SHOES I CAN'T WEAR

All Because of a "Touchy" CORN

BUT you can wear them, Madam—and now. Simply place on that corn a little Blue-jay plaster, and never again will you feel it. In two days there will be no corn. It will disappear for good. Millions of women know that. They don't pare corns. They don't use old-time methods. And they don't suffer. When a corn appears they end it. We are urging you to join them. Corns are needless since Blue-jay was invented. So they are abundant. You can prove in one minute that Blue-jay stops corn aches. You can prove in two days that it ends them forever.

CAUGHT IN MAELSTROM OF EUROPEAN PANIC

Visitors Now Here Had Interesting Experiences in Early Days of War

Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Ray, with Miss O. D. Brown, and Dr. Ethel D. Brown, of New York, are paying a brief visit to the city, being registered at the Empress hotel. They will leave to-day for Vancouver en route to Alaska.

Mr. Ray is head of the Irving school, a leading preparatory institution for the universities, which is shortly extending its operations by amalgamation with the Berkeley school of a similar character, new buildings being now in course of construction.

Mr. Ray travels a considerable portion of his vacations. Like many Americans generally he spent the summer in Europe, and with Mrs. Ray was caught in the Levant when the outbreak of the war occurred in Europe. Of his experiences he tells a very interesting story, which is somewhat different from that of most of the American globe trotters engaged in the upheaval.

"Late in July, 1914, we were in Constantinople when we were warned of the gathering storm," he said. "Leaving by steamer for the Piraeus, we were there intercepted by a message that the Austrian Lloyd intermediate steamer bound to Trieste, would call, and would be made an express steamer, cutting out stops. So we changed, passing up the Adriatic between the tilted shipping without incident, Austria not being then at war, and reached the Istrian seaport without incident. Then our difficulties began. Train service with the Italian frontier had been suspended, and we obtained an automobile to take ourselves and steamer baggage to the border. At the little border town of Cervignano the car was halted, and we were prevented from proceeding. My driver took the Austrian officer who had stopped us for a run in the car, having previously borrowed some money, the destination of which we could easily make a guess at, and later in the afternoon he returned with an old Italian peasant, driving a horse and rig. Into that we clambered, and so crossed the frontier to a place called San Gregorio. We had some difficulty in making our needs understood, and particularly getting food, but eventually arrived at a small station where we obtained a local train to Mestre, the junction for Venice. At Mestre we changed into an express for Milan, and thence reached Genoa.

"The difficulties which had begun at Trieste with regard to money increased in volume as we reached the Ligurian coast. There never was such a sight perhaps as Genoa presented with crowds of English speaking refugees, mostly American travelers of all ages and conditions in society. The New York millionaires were almost as short of negotiable cash as the humblest among us. The American consulate was besieged with distracted women, and even men, whose wits and capacity to think appeared to have deserted them. Some of us, myself included, volunteered to act as temporary clerks at the consulate to relieve the pressure, and others directed themselves to control the panic and comfort the distressed. The most extraordinary incidents occurred, people with fortunes, and their pockets full of foreign money, being unable to secure any negotiable currency in exchange, and being dead broke. People who had some money left lent it to others whom they had never seen before. An offer of 40 per cent. discount on paper was declined. It was the same everywhere, the steamship offices, the money brokers and tourist agencies had suspended exchange. "By this time there had gathered in Genoa a number of leading Americans, and some of them, headed by Dock Commissioner R. A. C. Smith, of New York, decided to charter a steamer direct to New York. The difficulty was to pay for it, as few of the company had any money which was acceptable. However, Mr. Smith made himself responsible for the charter of the Principe d'Udine of the Lloyd's Sabaud line, running from Genoa to Rio with Italian immigrants for the Brazil and the Rio Plata. The negotiations were expedited through the American consul general, Mr. Jones, and the pay-

FOUR WEEKS IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Brown Finally Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio.—"For years I suffered so sometimes it seemed as though I could not stand it any longer. It was all in my lower organs. At times I could hardly walk, for if I stepped on a little stone I would almost faint. One day I did faint and my husband was sent for and the doctor came. I was taken to the hospital and stayed four weeks but when I came home I would faint just the same and had the same pains.

A friend who is a nurse said for me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it that very day for I was suffering a great deal. It has already done me more good than the hospital. To anyone who is suffering as I was my advice is to stop in the first drug-store and get off the Compound before you go home."—Mrs. W. G. Brown, 1109 Auburn Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio.

ment through the National City Bank of New York reached Genoa only 20 minutes before the option on the steamer expired. Then the authorities stepped in and said they must take immigrants to America, but Mr. Smith said he would do nothing of the sort, and he refused to carry them. Ultimately the steamer was taken off the ways where she had been under minor repairs, her steering accommodation ripped out and temporary cabins made. The steamer carried 399 Americans to New York, and we thus got away from the trouble zone."

Mr. Ray mentioned an interesting sidelight on conditions in Germany from an incident which came under his notice recently. A woman engaged to a German officer interned at Hoboken managed to get out of Germany and arrived in New York a few weeks ago. She told her friends on arrival that the terms of her leaving the country were that she was forbidden to discuss anything she had seen, but her first request was for a square meal, which he thought spoke volumes for conditions in the interior of Germany.

Mr. Ray has a high opinion of Victoria, having visited here at intervals in the last dozen years.

WORK ON BRANCHES OF NORTHWEST SEWER

Delay Concerning Easements for Finlayson Street Section Handicaps Construction

Good progress is being made with the trunk section of the northwest sewer, but the branches from Garbally road and Finlayson street are yet to be built. The former, which is destined to serve the mill district, is in hand now, but the Finlayson sewer is held up by the difficulty of securing right-of-way. The gift of right-of-way easement by one owner was regarded as an augury for others coming forward with voluntary easements, but this has not been the case, and meanwhile work is halted.

The manhole at Bean street will be completed this week, being the last section south of Selkirk water, while the remaining portion between Chapman Point and Washington avenue has also been advanced in the last few days.

Financially the work continues to be done well within estimate figures, and the sewer loan of 1913, although now shrunk to about $55,000, will have a fair balance left for connecting sewers when the trunk system is finished. In addition to this balance the city is entitled to receive from the sewerage department of the city of Seattle, under the terms of the extra cost of increasing the diameter to provide for Saanich sewerage. There is no prospect of receiving this payment till next year, as Saanich has not submitted a sewer by-law, and then when the ratepayers have sanctioned the loan, the debentures will have to be sold. A draft agreement with the district municipality has been prepared, but no further action has been taken thereon, pending the city being in position to give a service to the Saanich area to be drained into the sewer. The Esquimalt municipality, the other contributory authority to the cost, has been in possession of facilities for some time.

It Was Expected

And This House Prepared For It

That the prices on Shoes (especially if made of real leather) would be jumping skyward had been anticipated by those who were well informed for many months past. It was bound to come. It was inevitable. The enormous consumption of leather by the old world was certain to bring about this condition, and the end is not yet.

This store, for months past, has been taking advantage of the knowledge that Shoes of all kinds would cost more than ever in our history, and has shaped its policy accordingly. We realized that we would have to make changes in a number of lines. This does not mean that we are going to handle CHEAP SHOES. That we have never done, and we never will. But it does mean that

Our Entire Present Stock Must Be Disposed Of EVERY SHOE IN THE STORE

HANAN'S, NETTLETON'S, COUSIN'S, LAIRD'S, GRAY'S—In fact all makes have had the price trimmed right down to the limit. They've all been placed on the firing line. Shoes that were $5.00 to $10.00 are

$1.00, $2.80, $3.40, $3.80, $4.30, $4.80, $5.40, $5.80

Appeal is Dismissed.—The appeal of the city of Vancouver in the arbitration case of P. W. V. City of Vancouver was to-day dismissed by the court of appeal. Mr. Justice McPhillips dissenting. The city claimed at the time of the arbitration that the arbitrator was prejudiced and counsel for the city objected to his sitting, but apparently thought the city had a good case and did not insist on the point. When the case went against the city it appealed, but the judge below did not think the alleged action of the arbitrator gave the corporation any right to object now, and the court of appeal takes the same view.

Aiding Returned Soldiers.—There will be a concert at the Empress hotel ball room on Thursday evening, June 29, in aid of the Returned Soldiers' Association fund. The programme has been arranged with the hope of interesting parents, teachers, and the music-loving public, and this hope realized by a full house will ensure a considerable superfluity of cash for the above patriotic purpose.

The Katz Case.—The magistrate yesterday afternoon discharged Joseph Katz, of 1324 Government street, from custody, on a charge of larceny. It appeared from the evidence that the informant, a Chinaman, had entered Katz' store to buy some clothes, and through a misunderstanding about change the man went away and brought a policeman to straighten the matter out. Katz had the money for the clothing first selected by the informant, who afterwards changed his mind and wanted better material, but would not pay the additional price. Katz insisted on the man keeping to the bargain, but he would not do so, hence the prosecution. H. C. Hall defended.

Pte. A. H. Fairclough, wounded, is a son of Mrs. Fairclough, who resides at 102 South Turner street. He joined the 88th in September, 1914, and later transferred into the 10th, being in the trenches with this battalion for nine months, when he was wounded.

Pte. Claude Geernaert, of the R. C. R., who has been wounded in the right leg, is in No. 2 general hospital, Camiers, France. Pte. Geernaert enlisted with the R. C. R. and went with that battalion to Bermuda and then to England. He had been in the trenches since November. His mother resides at 1315 Fernwood road.

Lieut. Arthur John Hudson, who is reported wounded, was employed here by R. V. Winch & Company, Day & Boggis and in the water rights department of the provincial government. He joined the 50th Gordons shortly after war began and obtained a commission in the 48th Battalion, with which he left for the front.

Pte. A. C. Wilson, reported wounded, is the son of Mrs. Holt Wilson, Somers. He was reported wounded last April when with the 16th Battalion, but later it was ascertained he was the 1st Canadian Pioneer. His father, mother and sister reside in this city.

The death of Pioneer Chalmers E. Landy, 1st Pioneer Corps, is announced in the casualty list. He was 41 years of age, and a native of Liverpool. For a number of years he was in the King's Liverpool Regiment. He arrived in Victoria about 1898, and for nine years was engineer on C. F. E. steamers. Later he engaged in the dairy business at Prospect lake, where his wife and two sons and a nephew now reside.

Cpl. Kenneth M. Reynard, son of City Controller Reynard, who left here with the 38th Battalion, has been killed by his father stating that he will shortly be returning home. At the date of the message he was to appear before a board of medical examiners at Shorncliffe to decide whether he would be discharged from further service. Cpl. Reynard was wounded recently, and has since been in the hospital.

A telegram received from Ottawa reports that Corporal W. Paul McGary was admitted to No. 3 hospital at Wimereux on June 14, suffering from wounds in the right arm and leg. Cpl. McGary is a native son, having been born here 24 years ago. He was educated at the North Ward school, and at the time he enlisted was employed as brakeman on the E. & N. Railway. He left here with the 30th Battalion and was transferred to the machine gun section of the 16th. He is well known in the city, and is a member of No. 1 lodge, Knights of Pythias.

J. M. Hughes, 1033 Burdett Ave., yesterday received a message reporting that his son Archie had been wounded. The telegram is as follows: "Sincerely regret to inform you that Pte. Archie had Hughes, infantry, officially reported admitted to No. 1 convalescent depot, Boulogne, June 15, wounded." Pte. Hughes, who is 20 years of age, is a native son, and was educated at the Central school here. Before joining the colors he was employed for several years on Dominion government steamers. He enlisted in the 48th, and was included in the first draft sent over from England to the 27th, Winnipeg, Battalion last September. He had been in the trenches since that time. He has one brother, Harry P. Hughes, who is a bookbinder in the government printing office.

WARD FOUR LIBERALS VOICE ENDORSEMENT

All Ward Associations Are Now Ready for Work of General Elections

There was a meeting of the Ward IV. Liberal Association last evening in the Arcade building rooms, when several of the members met under the chairmanship of R. C. Lowe, president of the ward association, and made arrangements for the work which will fall upon the wards in the coming campaign.

Unanimously the following resolution was carried by the association: "Resolved, that this association, representing the Liberals of Ward IV, expresses its confidence in the leader of the party, H. C. Brewster, whose manliness, honesty and sincerity have endeared him to every member of the party, and whose efforts in the development of British Columbia and the fight to secure for the people clean and business-like administration of their affairs have commended themselves to every elector; his high appreciation of the work done by himself and by M. A. MacDonald in the recent session, and its hearty endorsement of the action he has taken to secure an early legislative decision as to the status of the legislature and of legislation since March 14.

"This association pledges itself to support actively and energetically the candidature of the four men chosen by the Liberals of this city as their standard-bearers—Mr. Brewster, John Hart, A. H. Bell and H. C. Hall—believing that more than ever there is a need in this province of a man of our leader's business ability and integrity at the head of provincial affairs; that in him and his colleagues the electors of Victoria may safely trust to give to British Columbia honest and progressive administration, and that the return of a Liberal government at this time is imperatively necessary if this province is to be saved from material bankruptcy and if government placed in the hands of men representative of the people instead of in those of a corporation-owned cabinet."

Messrs. Hart, Bell and Hall thanked the association for its expression of confidence and dealt with political issues.

Several members of the association spoke and several questions were asked and answered.

POLITICAL NOTES

H. C. Brewster, provincial Liberal leader, sent to Hon. G. H. Murray, the veteran Liberal premier of Nova Scotia, a message of hearty congratulation on the occasion of the splendid victory of the party in that province on Monday, on behalf of the Liberals of British Columbia.

This morning Mr. Brewster received from Premier Murray, who is spending a few days at Baddeck in his own county of Victoria, the following acknowledgment of his message: "Sincere thanks for kind congratulations."

It is understood that the government has already begun work towards getting the ballot papers printed for the general elections, and the order for the rubber stamps with which the deputy returning officers mark the ballots as they are given out has been placed.

The voters' lists are to be in the hands of the King's Printer by July 1, and presumably immediately after that he will have them printed in the bureau or by the favored government press where so much of the government work that ought to be attended to in the printing bureau is sent.

There is a conference of Indian chiefs, executive of the Indian Rights Association and the deputy superintendent-general of Indian affairs. The feeling of the Indians was voiced by Chief Titianah, of Spence's Bridge, who said: "We Indians here in this province feel the grip of the British Columbia government. We must work together to free ourselves from that grip. If all the Indians saw the government proposals as clearly as we do they would not accept them. Now the provincial government wants to take away from us the fore-shore rights on our reserves. How can Indians be satisfied with these conditions?"

Dennis Peter, Ruby Creek, speaking in English on the rights of the aborigines, said: "Look at Sir Richard McBride. He went away from British Columbia with a load of gold upon his back. Whose money was it? It was the Indians."

VETERANS' OBSEQUIES

Funeral of C. F. Moore Took Place This Morning in Presence of British Campaigners

The funeral of Charles Frederick Moore, veteran of the Chinese war of the sixties—took place this morning under the auspices of the British Campaigners' Association, whose members met at the B. C. Funeral parlors, and moved to St. Barnabas church with the cortege, where the service was conducted by the Rev. E. G. Miller.

The 143rd Battalion, C. E. F., supplied the bearers, Sergt. S. J. Pomroy and Corporal F. W. Webber (members of the association), Lance-Corporals A. J. Hunt, W. H. Howard, R. A. Mann and H. Mahy, with the bugler, F. Armstrong.

The president of the association, Beaumont Boggs, Vice-President E. C. B. Bagshaw, Secretary W. J. Edwards, Brinkley Robinson and Geo. Smith, Crisman and Mutiny veterans; George Day (Robert's march to Kandahar) and about 15 other members attended.

The service was choral at the church, the selected hymns being "On the Resurrection Morning," "Peace, Perfect Peace." Later at Ross Bay cemetery the bugler sounded the "Last Post."

WHO IS DEPENDENT UNDER WAR RELIEF? THIS AFTERNOON

Courts Will Have to Decide Legal Point in Connection With Criticized Measure

Two Committee Meetings Are Being Held; the Victoria Arm Trestle

The question of what constitutes dependency under the War Relief Act is now before Mr. Justice Murphy, and will be taken into consideration by him in connection with an application made to him this morning on behalf of the plaintiff in Cophorne v. Campbell et al., for a final order for foreclosure under a covenant to purchase.

The father, who is the chief person to the covenant as purchaser, is away from the city in the pursuit of his work and two sons are at the front. The defence is raised that the father is a dependant of the sons, and that as they are soldiers he is entitled to the relief of this act in the staying of the proceedings until the close of the war.

Counsel for the plaintiff pointed out that in the War Relief Act there was no definition of "dependant," although in the Workmen's Compensation Act there was a definition, "such of the members of a family as were wholly or partly dependent upon his earnings."

In her affidavit Mrs. Campbell had stated that before the war her husband, her two boys and one girl and her brother were contributing to the maintenance of the house, to a total of over $200 a month, while expenses were about $100. Since the war the boys had been sending her money as they could. The husband is away pursuing his business and he also sends money home, but counsel argued that he was not a dependant by reason of his sons sending money to their mother. In any event the act did not stay the action against other defendants.

F. J. Stappole, K.C., for the defendants, argued that the action had been stayed automatically by virtue of the statute, and that to remove this stay it would be necessary for the plaintiff to show that the defendants were not dependants within the meaning of the War Relief Act.

The court took the matter under consideration.

In a motion made immediately after by J. S. Brandon, his lordship asked whether the material before the court contained an affidavit to the effect that no soldier was concerned in it by reason of parties to the proceedings being dependants, and intimated in answer to questions that in future affidavits will have to include such an affidavit.

PERSONAL.

The wedding took place on Monday night at Emmanuel Baptist church of Alice Taylor, of Nanaimo, and Walter Janes Taylor, of the 11th C. M. R., whose home is at Wellington. Rev. William Stevenson performed the rite, and the bride was attended by Mrs. Kathleen Lord, the bridegroom by Oliver Keith Lord.

Following is the list of guests who registered at the Strathcona lodge last week: Mr. and Mrs. Beddington, Miss Beddington, Miss James, Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Daly, Vancouver; J. M. BOY JOINED BANTAMS

Fourteen Years Old and Disappointed When Father Arrived and Took Him Home.

At the Bantam recruiting office at Vancouver a boy named Thomas Hunter enlisted, giving his age as 13 years. His father appeared as the boy was going from the recruiting office to the wharf to take the Victoria boat. His father demanded that Thomas be sent home as he is only fourteen years old. Father and son returned to the recruiting office and waited there until his birth certificate had been sent for. This showed his father was right, and much to his chagrin the lad was released from enlistment. He has a brother overseas who is reported missing, and another who is in a special unit. He cannot see why he should not be allowed to go.

A number of former Imperial service men at Vancouver are soon to leave for Calgary to join the American Legion machine gun section. There are many veterans in the company. Among them is William Riley, Queen's Lancashire, with service records in South Africa and India. Others are Sgt. William Bairns, Percy Bertram, Geo. Kendall, William L'Amie, Charles Cassidy, Frank Wrigley, William Brooks, Alexander McDonald, Edward Bertram.

Development Association Sending Out Many Letters in Connection With Tourist Campaign.

During this week the Victoria and Island Development Association has sent out more than 1,000 personal letters to addresses in Washington and Oregon in connection with tourist business and the proposed Georgian Circuit celebration here. The letters contain invitations to visit Victoria for a vacation, and set forth the attractions of the city and island.

A list of addresses has been sent to the local office by Herbert Cuthbert, the V. I. D. A. commissioner, who is now engaged making a tour of the two states in the interest of tourist business for Victoria. He is visiting all the principal towns and many of the smaller ones, placing literature and interviewing persons of prominence.

MEXICO NOT GETTING ARMS FROM JAPANESE

Japan Wants Peace Preserved, Says Baron Ishi, Foreign Minister

Tokio, June 23.—"Of course any claim that the Japanese government will assist the Mexicans with munitions and arms is out of the question and absurd," said Baron Ishi, foreign minister, to a correspondent of the Associated Press who asked him to-day for his views on the Mexican situation. The interview was sought on account of declarations attributed to Mexicans that assurances had been received from Japan that munitions and other assistance would be given Mexico in the event of war with the United States. "As for private Japanese companies selling arms to Mexicans," the foreign minister continued, "I consider it extremely improbable. As you know, all available rifles and guns are being furnished to Japan's allies to assist in bringing the European war to a successful issue. And I fancy, though I do not know, that munitions not available for our allies may have found their way to China during the revolutionary troubles."

"Let me say this with all the emphasis and earnestness at my command," said the minister, standing around in his chair, "the Japanese nation sincerely hopes that armed conflict between the United States and Mexico may be averted. Japan's interest in America, North, Central and South, being essentially pacific and commercial, any event bringing disturbances into the American market would be felt keenly in Japan. This is especially true at a moment when the whole European trade is virtually closed to Japan and the Chinese market is seriously upset."

Baron Ishi declared he had never heard of General Ramon Irujo, a representative of General Carranza who was reported several weeks ago to be on his way to Japan on a secret mission.

No Negotiations.

M. C. Telles, the Mexican charge d'affaires, in an interview, asserted emphatically that the Mexican government had ordered no munitions or arms in Japan and that no negotiations for such supplies were under way.

In regard to General Irujo, Senor Telles heard recently that he had gone to Spain on a military mission. The report that the general was coming to Japan was groundless.

The Oriental Steamship line, Seizo Maru, which sailed on May 29 for South American ports, arrived at San Francisco yesterday and is due at San Pedro de Macoris, Mexico, nine days later. Manager Asano said to-day that she carried no arms or munitions.

He stated that the steamships of his line carried no munitions at any time and would refuse to transport a cargo of them.

The Nippon Yusen Kaisha inaugurated last month a service to New York via the Panama canal with the steamship Tashima Maru. A representative of the company said:

"The Tashima Maru transports no munitions. Our steamships never carry munitions to America."

The press makes no mention of Mexican claims that munitions are procurable in Japan, but the Nichi Nichi Shimbun publishes a report from Berlin that Japan is giving support to Mexico. The opinion set forth in the press is that the United States is too optimistic regarding Mexico. It is observed that Japan should derive lessons as to how to treat China from the outcome of the American policies in regard to Mexico.

Wilson Still Awaits Report from Pershing

Washington, June 23.—A preliminary report from Brig-Gen. Pershing on the fight at Carrizal, based on reports told by stragglers reaching the headquarters of the American expedition and on Mexican rumors, was taken to the White House to-day by Secretary Baker.

The secretary said Brig-Gen. Pershing himself did not regard the report as an official statement of what had happened. The secretary indicated that no attempt to decide the course to be pursued by the United States would be made until a complete account had been received.

SAYS MEXICANS HAVE BURIED DIFFERENCES

Want War With States, Declares American Back Across Border

Nogales, Ariz., June 23.—Harvey Eiler, A. F. Sprague, Mrs. H. E. Underwood and Dr. M. N. Wade, superintendent of the El Cajo mine at Boluda, 60 miles west of Santa Ana, in Sonora county, arrived to-day, having been brought from Magdalena on a long train heavily loaded with troops. "The whole country from Magdalena north is alive with troops," said Dr. Wade. "I have never seen the Mexicans so hostile. Party differences have been buried and the people spend the nights parading the streets with bands, firecrackers and shouts for war on the United States."

"The whole state of Sonora, we learned, had been distracted, and the number of men, available guns, horses and supplies listed."

"It required threats of death from our guards to keep the soldiers and populace from insulting us."

Mrs. Underwood and the three men had planned to proceed to the border by carriage rather than encounter the Mexicans gathered at Magdalena, but were compelled to call on the Mexican commandant for transportation when their driver deserted them at Santa Ana.

NATIONALISTS MAY POSTPONE DECISION

Are Now Considering Lloyd George's Scheme at Conference in Belfast

London, June 23.—There is not the slightest foundation for the reports spread in the United States that the uprising in Ireland has been renewed and that the British government is suppressing the news. This information was obtained from a government department after exhaustive inquiries. It is confirmed from non-official quarters, where any news of the kind would be bound to be known, at least partially. The reports probably are an exaggerated outgrowth of description of scenes attending recent funerals of Sinn Féin victims of the uprising.

Meanwhile, though opposition to the projected settlement of the Irish question developed within the cabinet itself came as an unpleasant surprise, there has been no really serious hitch in the negotiations, which are expected to be advanced to an important stage by the Nationalist conference started to-day at Belfast. If these hopes prove justified, it is said that the reluctant attitude adopted by the Marquis of Lansdowne, Rt. Hon. Walter Hume Long and the Earl of Selborne will not be allowed to stand in the way of future progress, even should some changes in the cabinet become necessary. On both the Ulsterite and Nationalist sides there are intransigentists, and those of the Nationalist side apparently are more difficult to deal with than are the group headed by Lord Lansdowne.

At the Belfast conference Mr. Devlin, who is supported by Mr. Redmond and Mr. Dillon, is threatened by the organization of the Roman Catholic bishops of Ulster. Dr. McHugh, bishop of Derry, has published a letter stating that he, Cardinal Logue, Bishop MacRory and Bishop McEneaney, whose conduct extends over six of the excluded counties, are against Mr. Lloyd George's proposals. Two hundred priests are attending the conference.

It is believed among Nationalists here that a goodly proportion of them will agree to the acceptance of the proposals on the following grounds, outlined by Canon Quinn, of Magnafelt, County Down:

"I would vote for bringing into immediate operation the Home Rule Act of 1914. I should reluctantly consent to the temporary exclusion of six Ulster counties, but I would consent in circumstances of emergency. My reasons are:

"First—That twenty-six counties of Nationalist Ireland will immediately have the full benefits of the Home Rule Act; the first effect of this would be national peace and an end of martial law here.

"Second—The exclusion scheme is only temporary, and during its existence the six counties must enjoy the same rights and privileges as they have at present."

There is little expectation that the Belfast conference will vote against Mr. Lloyd George's proposals. It is thought more probable that final decision may be postponed until it is made evident that the cabinet is not going to allow schism within its own ranks to interfere with its complete eventual support of the scheme which Mr. Lloyd George undertook with the full approval of his colleagues.

GEN. PERSHING SAYS ATTACK UNPROVOKED

Washington, June 23.—Secretary Baker made public to-day a report from Brig-Gen. Pershing of the fight of the 10th Cavalry with Mexicans at Carrizal. It indicated that the attack upon the Americans was unprovoked, but gave no estimate of the casualties on either side.

Brig-Gen. Pershing had not had an opportunity to confer with any officer of the two companies and Secretary Baker said that a definite conclusion as to where the blame rested could not be formed.

CONGRESS DISCUSSED MEXICAN SITUATION

Wilson Authorized to Draft National Guardsmen Into Federal Service

Washington, June 23.—In an amendment to the Hay resolution authorizing the president to draft into the federal service immediately all National Guardsmen willing to take the oath, the House to-day unanimously declared that an emergency now existed, necessitating a call on state troops.

Questioned by Republican Leaders Mann and others, Mr. Hay told the House that the resolution did not contemplate a state of war, but that the mere fact of the introduction of the resolution handed to him by the war department "shows that in the opinion of the executive the emergency does exist, and that this resolution is absolutely necessary to meet the emergency."

The Hay resolution itself, as amended, was adopted 322 to 2.

A new section of the bill offered by Rep. Hay and also unanimously adopted would appropriate not exceeding $1,000,000 for allowance not to exceed $50 a month to dependents of National Guardsmen with no other income than the Guardsman's pay.

Representative Mann made a speech declaring that a state of war with Mexico already existed to all intents and purposes, and expressing the opinion that the regular troops are not carrying out the purpose for which they were sent into Mexico. He said, however, that he did not see how they could be withdrawn under the present circumstances, and if they were to stay the military strength of the country necessarily must be increased.

Representative Butler, of Pennsylvania, Republican, urged that the president should advise congress of his reasons for determining that an emergency existed.

"I think we are declaring war here," declared Representative Madden, of Illinois.

Mr. Hay replied that the president would be requested to come back to congress if a declaration of war was deemed necessary.

"This resolution does not contemplate a declaration of war or a declaration that a state of war exists," he added.

San Antonio, June 23.—Fear that the casualties suffered by Captain Boyd's detachment of the 10th U. S. Cavalry command had been very heavy were expressed by army officers to-day. It was pointed out that if twelve men had been killed, as reported through Mexican sources, it would mean that from 35 to 40 had been wounded, according to the usual proportion.

These, with the number reported from Chihuahua to have been captured, would account for practically one troop of 50 per cent. of the command. Indeed, from the reports available so far it is by no means certain that Captain Boyd's command was not practically wiped out.

TO-DAY'S TRADING ON THE WINNIPEG MARKET

Winnipeg, June 23.—Wheat closed 1c down for July, 14c lower for October and 1c down for December; oats, 1c down for July, and 1c lower for October; flax, 1c lower for July and 1c lower for October. Wheat here broke sharply when Chicago went under $1, but quickly recovered. With Chicago wheat breaking the dollar to-day's market showed a fair trade. But for the steadiness in Winnipeg until one o'clock the break would have been tremendous. Only some very good buying by local export men saved the day, and even at that prices had a good substantial break. The cash demand was only fair enough to keep premiums steady in the face of fairly liberal offers. The export buying was mostly in July wheat and was credited to the allied governments. Oats was in good demand, with premiums unchanged.

ENLARGEMENT OF PRIMARY RECEIPTS AT TERMINALS

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

Chicago, June 23.—Primary receipts are showing a tendency to enlarge and it is expected that this tendency will be augmented as northwestern reports indicate an enlargement of the movement of old wheat in that section. Some selling was induced by more favorable crop reports from Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, where the recent beneficial weather has undoubtedly increased the yield as filling conditions have been favorable. The market met liberal offerings.

LIQUIDATION ORDER ISSUES GO LOWER ON VICTORIA EXCHANGE

Technical Position of Wall Street Issues Reckoned as Wobbly and Bears Sold

General Rule of List Was to Depreciate Conjointly but Lucky Jim Firm

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

New York, June 23.—Support apparently was tendered to Union Pacific in order to strengthen rails, but even so, price concessions in that quarter were the order of things as well as in the industrial department. A while ago a vague and indefinite report was circulated to the effect that Europe was negotiating for 200,000,000 pounds of copper. Under the stimulus of that advice efforts were made to inject new life into copper shares without success, and now it has been stated that the negotiations are suspended. Holders of coppers are beginning to realize that a sharp recession in metal prices is on the tapis. Conditions in Mexico are far from satisfactory, but it is the technical condition of things which counts for most at such times as the present, and traders adhere to the view that the over extended long interest in industrials will have to be equalized before an enduring advance can be promoted again. It is more than probable that a tax on the profits of munition companies will be contemplated in new tax proposals.

Following the trend of American markets prices headed lower on the local stock exchange, yet, in view of reigning unsettlement, depreciation was not so extensive as might have been reasonably expected under the circumstances. The financial community is forced to contend with much adversity these days and holders of investment and speculative issues alike are quick to depress the markets. Lucky Jim did not break importantly and seemed fixed at ten cents a share, the buying support being general at that level. In Granby the situation was somewhat different, for all coppers are being made the target for pressure on the failure to respond to constructively bullish influences.

MONTREAL STOCKS

(By F. A. Borden & Co.)
Montreal, June 23.—Liquidation again was in evidence in the local market, although business was light and the demand appeared to be about equal to supply. The action of the market during the past few days seems to indicate that stocks have fallen into strong hands. Even when Wall Street is most depressed the offerings on the local market seem to find ready purchasers at slight discounts. The close to-day was very little changed from yesterday's last sales and a few stocks closed fractionally better.

SOMEONE MUST PAY FOR BURNED BARNS

Judge Finds Destruction of Hindu Cow-Stables High-Handed Act

"The officials of the law are public servants, not public masters, myself included, but I think some officials and some of the public too often forget that," said Mr. Justice Murphy this forenoon in the course of counsel's argument in McCann v. Saanich et al. the action for damages heard yesterday and arising out of the burning of Hindu cow-stables on March 24 by John B. Howes, assistant sanitary inspector and dairy inspector in the city service, and Chief Little, of the Saanich police force.

"I think it was a very high-handed proceeding and calls for the fixing of exemplary damages," said his lordship yesterday at the conclusion of the taking of evidence. "To go out and set fire to people's property is something that cannot be tolerated; and whoever did it must be taught that it must not be done again. No official has the right to take the law into his own hands any more than myself or any other citizen. No person has any right to destroy property without first making sure what they are doing, and to do a thing like that without taking precautions to control the fire is most reprehensible."

Councillor Grant, chairman of the Saanich council finance committee, was called by H. G. S. Helsternman, counsel for Reeve McGregor and Dr. White, and questioned as to the account from Chave & Son for coal oil which is "o.k.d." by Chief Little for "burning Hindu barns." He said he had initialled the voucher, but had not looked at the account closely at the time, and did not notice the endorsement. It was most unusual to place such a note as to the use made of material on the face of an account.

To Mr. Stackpole, Councillor Grant stated that the insubstantial condition of all the Hindu cow-stables in Saanich had been under the ban and instructions had been given to the chief of police to deal with this. The burning of buildings had never been discussed nor proposed, the only object being to prevent the production of milk in such surroundings.

Councillor William F. Somers, a member of the finance committee, called by Mr. Helsternman, said he had not seen the account at all.

Mr. Stackpole argued that the whole responsibility for the burning was on the council of Saanich, that Howes was there by virtue of the reeve's permission, and that he took no part in the burning. Howes, as assistant sanitary inspector and dairy inspector for the city, might possibly be a tortfeasor, but he was not the only one. In any case, whatever was done was ratified by the action of the Saanich council in paying the account for coal-oil and the wages of the road workmen whom Little called in to assist. It was useless for the members of the finance committee to say that they had the duty of examining all accounts, but had failed to do so here and therefore the council could not escape responsibility.

"I cannot conceive of anything more high-handed and reckless than going on a man's property and deliberately setting a fire and pouring coal-oil on it," said his lordship. "The only reason no other property was burned was because it was not there to burn. It shows an absolute disregard for people's rights. The idea of starting a conflagration like that on private property is such that it calls, not for enormous damages, it is true, but for such damages as will carry out my object of impressing on people that they must not take the law into their own hands."

Mr. Stackpole pointed out that the plaintiff did not come into court with his hands clean, having been guilty of allowing insanitary conditions to continue there.

"But that does not make you judge, jury and executioner, and that is what somebody did here," his lordship insisted.

D. S. Tait, for Chief Little, held that his client was justified in believing that the reeve had given authority to act in this case to Howes, and he assisted Howes and Dr. White by going out there. If damages were to be granted it should be taken into consideration that the buildings were of cheap material and construction, and that the trees complained of being damaged were not injured to any extent that the plaintiff would put a money value on.

ity of Saanich, maintained that there was no evidence of anything done personally by Dr. White or Reeve McGregor. Little knew what the procedure was if buildings were to be destroyed, and knew that no such procedure had been taken by the council. McGregor's letter to Howes was simply to permit him to carry out his duties as city dairy inspector in Saanich, and Little was acting for Howes in the matter, and not for the municipality. In any case, Little as a policeman came under the police commission, and the council was not responsible for his acts.

The law on this point was cited by Mr. Robertson, showing that municipalities are not responsible for the actions or negligence of policemen or firemen, or those engaged in city hospitals, or health officers, nor for any injury received by a person in or about city police stations or jails. Police officers are in no sense agents or servants of the city, and the city is not responsible for any negligence on their part. Mr. Robertson held that the question of design must be considered in assessing damages, and that this was no case for exemplary damages since none of the men concerned had gone to the farm to serve any private or individual end.

Mr. McDermid asked the court to find that McGregor, White, Little and Howes were all guilty of burning the buildings in question. The physical act of firing the property was that of Little, the act was that of McGregor through Howes by reason of the letter he had given, Howes was the one who had asked for the letter, and White was a consenting party to standing there while the buildings burned, holding the clothes, as it were, as St. Paul did once.

McGregor had brought the municipality in by being reeve, and giving Howes the letter, and the municipality came in by reason of paying the bill for the oil used and the wages of the workmen employed.

His lordship reserved judgment.

MAJORITY OF BOARD AGAINST REDUCTION

Court of Revision Will Not Make Further Cut of Ten Per Cent All Round

This morning the proposal of Alderman Johns to have an additional cut of 10 per cent. made on the land values of Victoria city before the court of revision concluded its work, failed to find a supporter among the other members of the court, and therefore collapsed.

In supporting the motion, Alderman Johns said his views in favor of a cut of 40 to 45 per cent. instead of 33 per cent. had been known in council before he was appointed to the court. The court could not ignore the opinion of business men who have had interests in the community for years, in the universal appeal for reduced assessments. Coming to that board with his mind inclined to the policy of further reduction, the sentiment he then possessed had been strengthened by 17 days attending the court, and in fact members of the court had not hesitated to state that they considered assessments were too high. Local property owners would not be affected materially by a reduced assessment, but to the non-resident owner it meant much as an attempt to return assessment to its logical basis. The money for civic expenditures must be found, and a high rate would be more honest.

City Solicitor Hannington pointed out that the principle had an effect on the borrowing powers of the council.

Alderman Johns—That is where I think we have suffered. High rates on low assessments would have checked extravagant borrowing in past years.

Alderman Porter—What assurance have you that purchasers of land would be guided by the assessment, as they certainly were not in the past?

The mayor deprecated a larger drop in the assessment than was now proposed.

Alderman Porter was prepared to admit that there was still some property under-assessed, and some over-assessed, but he did not see any advantage to be gained by a ten per cent. reduction, as that would not adjust matters over the whole city.

City Solicitor Hannington hoped the court would bear in mind that the ten per cent. cut must come each year under the terms of the statute during the continuation of the war.

Alderman Johns—The limitation can be as easily taken off as it was imposed.

The solicitor dissented, saying they had had sufficient trouble already with the statute.

Alderman Walker desired to associate himself with those opposed to further reduction of the assessment at this stage. One reason was that property in Oak Bay and Saanich, outside the limits, was assessed higher than that adjacent within the limits. In spite of the fact also that an increase in the mill rate would be satisfactory to the city.

It was stated that the effect of the revision would be to place the roll at between $82,000,000 and $82,500,000 on land values, and the mayor added that compliance with the proposal would in a few years make a serious drop in assessment.

Alderman Cameron deprecated the attitude of some members of the court in admitting to appellants that the assessment was too high. For his part, while inequalities must occur in the complicated character which the roll had now taken, substantial justice had been done, and the court had achieved useful results for the community.

The matter dropped, Alderman Johns finding that no one would support him with a motion.

On the advice of the city solicitor, the court struck out the assessment of a water lot on Rock Bay leased by the city to the Taylor Mill Company. The solicitor's advice was that the city has no power to assess itself, as the title is vested in the city, and the same principle applies to a lot leased from the city by the Lemon, Gonnason Co. The court also struck out the assessment of two water lots on Lime Bay,

WOULD OBTAIN THE OPINION OF BOARD

Railway Commissioners' Ruling Sought With Regard to Harbor Crossing

Alderman Todd proposes to move the following resolution in city council next Monday, with regard to the Johnson street bridge:

"Whereas in 1887 the E. & N. Railway Company led the city council to believe that it was the intention of the railway company to apply for permission to construct a railway across the harbor from Victoria, a railway and vehicular swing bridge which shall be free to the public forever; and thereupon, on the 6th day of July, 1887, the city council passed a formal resolution of appreciation containing the wording in the inverted commas above, and caused a copy of the said resolution to be forwarded to the president of the railway company, to the provincial secretary at Victoria, and to the Hon. Sir Hector Louis Langevin, minister of public works at Ottawa.

"And whereas on the 26th of August, 1887, the committee of the privy council at Ottawa, approved by the governor general, reported 'concerning the application of the E. & N. Railway Company for permission to construct a bridge' to accommodate both railway and highway traffic, 'that permission be granted the E. & N. Railway Company to build a railway and highway bridge across a portion of 'Victoria harbor,' and setting out that the minister of public works to whom the said application was referred, reports that it appears by a resolution passed by the municipal council of Victoria that there is no objection on the part of the civic authorities to the construction of a bridge on the proposed site;

"And whereas the bridge was constructed by the railway company upon the said site and thereupon, or afterwards, the railway company, having received the railway privileges they desired for their own personal traffic and advantage, prevented the use of the bridge as a 'highway bridge' and prevented it being 'free to the public forever for foot vehicles';

"And whereas the aforesaid resolution of the city council on the 6th of July, 1887, clearly sets out the condition on which the approval of the city council was given to the construction of the said bridge;

"And whereas the aforesaid report of the privy council and minister of public works of the 26th August, 1887, refers to the fact that the city council did not oppose the construction of the referred-to bridge 'to accommodate both railway and highway traffic,' by a resolution passed by the municipal council of Victoria; and thereupon the said committee of the privy council granted permission to the E. & N. Railway Company to build a 'railway and highway bridge';

"And whereas the action of the railway company in not providing highway facilities has been a breach of faith contrary to the permission granted by Ottawa;

"Be it hereby resolved that application be made to the board of railway commission, or to courts having jurisdiction in such matters, or to both, to the following effect:

"(a) To compel the railway company to provide facilities for highway traffic;

"(b) For damages by reason of the damage and harm done to the city of Victoria on account of the public having been prevented the free use of the bridge for highway purposes from the date of its construction to the present time."

Public Market.—Week-end market will be held as usual on Saturday. It is expected all the stalls will be taken with full lines of all seasonable produce, and with a good attendance of buyers business should prove very brisk. Fresh local fruit, vegetables, dairy produce, plants, flowers, meats, fish, etc., will be on sale.

BAPTIST CONVENTION BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Rev. J. L. Campbell Makes Plea for Bible Study; Committees Appointed

The twentieth annual convention of the Baptist church of British Columbia concluded its sessions last evening with an open meeting at which H. C. Brewster presided as chairman.

In a brief address Mr. Brewster urged more study of the Bible. "What was to become of the world if the teachings of the Bible stopped? There was a special duty for the church at this time, to make ready to receive newcomers and plan and conserve the best rather than to give freedom to the worst elements in the new citizenship which was to spring up."

A same plea for Bible study was made by Rev. John L. Campbell, of the First Baptist church, Vancouver, who deplained that the Bible was not only a great book, but that it provided material of the most fascinating kind when rightly read and studied. Students should get the continuity of the Bible by reading it quickly from end to end before commencing to take up a detailed study of the book. It was not one book, in fact, but a library of sixty-six books bound together in one volume. There would come to everyone the opportunity to study the book piece by piece, the special meaning of words could be traced, and questions relating to ancient life might be followed up with reference books. Above everything, Mr. Campbell recommended a practical study of the Bible that men might find help from its great moral and spiritual ideals in times of stress and storm of life.

It was Mr. Campbell who during the evening reminded the convention that the German who had been responsible for bringing about the slaughter of Miss Edith Cavell, had been made a Doctor of Divinity since then by the Prussian church. This required no discussion.

The evening session and the convention concluded with a resolution of regret at the passing of Rt. Rev. Augustine Scriven, Bishop of Columbia, and of sympathy with Mrs. Scriven. The resolution passed by the convention standing as a body and silently testifying in this way to their esteem of the late head of the diocese of British Columbia.

Afternoon Business

A considerable amount of business came up at the afternoon session yesterday. Rev. Andrew Greive and Rev. E. M. Cook conducted the devotional services, and addresses were given on "Evangelism," by Rev. J. B. Warlicker; on "Elementary Work in the Sunday Schools," by Miss Everett; "Sunday School Music," by H. H. Pollard; "The Sunday School Spirit of Corps," by R. T. Chave; and the "Sunday School as Factor in Church Life," by J. W. King.

Temperance Resolution

The following is the full text of the resolution passed yesterday by the convention on the subject of Prohibition, and to which reference was made in last evening's Times:

"Whereas the Baptist convention of British Columbia has repeatedly expressed its unequivocal and determined hostility to the liquor traffic, and our ministers and people have always, and in all places, been in the front ranks of its opponents; and whereas the referendum bill which will be submitted to the electorate of British Columbia at the coming provincial elections, whatever its defects may be, marks a decided step in advance, and will put the legalized saloon out of business;

"Resolved, that this convention endorses the action of the government in passing the referendum bill and that we pledge ourselves to urge our people in every section of the province to join us in doing all in our power to secure an overwhelming majority in favor of the abolition of the liquor traffic."

The following are other committees which were appointed to act in the ensuing year:

State of religion—Rev. Dr. R. Cameron, Mr. F. G. West, and Mr. G. R. Reynolds.

Ordination committee—Rev. G. R. Welch, Rev. J. W. Litch and Rev. William Stevenson.

ENDEAVOR TO KEEP PERCENTAGE BASIS

Proportionate Reduction on Assessment Roll is Difficult in View of Business Situation

The difficulty of assimilating the altered business conditions in the city with the assessment, keeping in mind the policy of a percentage reduction on the 1914 roll, engaged the civic court of revision yesterday afternoon.

The chief problem arose in the business property between Government street and the inner harbor, it being mentioned that lower Johnson street and lower Yates street, the former particularly, had suffered by changed conditions. In the case of Johnson street, there is not only the loss of business due to the absence of a thoroughfare by Store street, but also the bad condition of the street, on account of the old pavement, which is to be replaced this year, as the reasons advanced by appellants for declining values.

The court reduced the Johnson street assessment by 30 per cent. on the 1914 figures, and surrounding property will be similarly affected in the equalization subsequently.

Several appeals against the decision of the court of revision have already been lodged by lawyers interested, and the court is therefore endeavoring to maintain a policy of percentage reduction in order to meet the objections in the higher courts, should the appeals be persisted in when the roll is signed. That principle should meet the legislation passed at the recent session of the house redefining the underlying basis of assessment. As the cut this year is an average of about 32 per cent. on the high water mark assessment of Victoria, business property under existing conditions is being placed at an assessment equivalent to that general reduction.

With the completion of its work in sight, the next step will be the equalization of the assessments where reductions have been allowed by the board, after which there will be a subsequent sitting to sign the roll. Appeals have to be lodged within a week after the decision is given, so it will be known shortly what finality there is in the work in hand during the past three weeks, the consideration of the roll having begun on June 1.

TELLS SIMPLE STORY OF LIFE AT FRONT

Allies Are Bound to Have Victory Says Major Pringle Who Spoke Here Last Night

"Britain has never had in any war troops of the morale and physique of those holding the west front to-day."

"The Britisher, the whole English-speaking race, holds its chin up. They have a right to."

"Britain rules the seas, but she rules them by holding them as free highways for the passage of the commerce of the allies and the neutral nations. She has swept the English channel, even in this time of war, cleaner than many a housewife sweeps her house."

"Joffre is the instrument of a great democracy that is fighting for its life. The French army is the most efficient fighting machine in Europe."

These are gleanings from the simple narrative of his experiences as a chaplain with the Canadian forces told last evening by Major John Pringle, D. D., before a big congregation at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. Stugged in appearance and unaffected in bearing and address, the returned soldier told a story which, by its obvious truthfulness, held the rapt attention of an audience interested more than anything else in the homely daily happenings in the lives of the boys in the trenches. The observations were those of a frontiersman as well as the scholar, and the rare admixture made for one of the most picturesque and human of stories.

Major Pringle just talked. He told how he left Valcartier with the Canadian troops in the autumn of 1914 as a chaplain in private's uniform; how the two weeks' rations petered out on a three-weeks' voyage; how his heart rose into his throat at the first sight of England, the land of his fathers, "Home!"

It was a royal reception which the Canadians had when they reached Plymouth. The shores and quays were a dense throng of cheering Devon men and women come down to welcome their brother Britons from overseas. He could not cheer. His heart was too full!

Which Duty First?

"The thing you young men who have not enlisted have to do as British subjects, knowing something of the high stand which the British empire is taking at this time in the cause of common justice—the freedom of the subject—is to decide whether your duties to the empire do not far outweigh all other duties. Sometimes, I know, it takes much more courage to stay at home than to go. But to-day I saw in the streets of Victoria many young men who had no signs of being the least bit impressed with a sense of their duty. There are two units, the 103rd and the 143rd, which I understand want recruits. Here is a chance."

Major Pringle just referred to the casualty list. It was the best fruiting speech that he had seen—of insistent call to the manhood to go forth and fill the place of the men who had died in France serving the empire or who lay wounded in hospital.

"You cannot hold the empire together unless the children of the empire in the dominions overseas continue to think of the old land as home," said the soldier chaplain, going back to his impressions of the return of the Canadians to the mother country. It was that deep instinct, that intense appeal of the old land to the sons of Englishmen born and brought up on other soil, that had made the response to England's call for men so fine.

Only Superficial.

Ten days in that first month in England he spent in London, most of the time on the top of buses, from which vantage point he made his observations. And as a minister, accustomed to look for the depressing, it took the heart out of him. But a deeper study of the national life changed his view.

"It is the superficial things of the national life of England that depress," he decided. "While the centre in London, that city is also the centre of the greatest moral and spiritual forces in the world to-day. The little island has within it vice and sin, we know, but behind it all is the big moral instinct. At heart she is all right, and she is going to win."

Canadians at Front.

At the front he came to know the source of all the Canadian troops from the Yukon and Vancouver island to Cape Breton. They were resourceful, cheery, sturdy.

Some description of the beautiful country in the Ploegstreet neighborhood where the Canadians held the front was given, the practical appreciation of one who could value the country agriculturally as well as from the point of picturesque beauty. Leading Major Pringle to speak of the fine character of the soil, the result of centuries of cultivation.

"It has been fertilized ever since Julius Caesar pacified Gaul by exterminating the people," he said with humor. "The soil is full of germs, as a consequence, and these have proved a menace to the wounded soldier as well as the wounded horse."

The wonderful road running from Paris to Lille, built and paved by Napoleon one hundred years ago, came in for another mode of praise. This road had been wonderful for the transports. Then came a description of the Belgian farm houses, the utilitarian uses of the numerous dozes to be found around the places—running bread wagons, milk carts, the tread mill which does the churning, etc. Afterwards in greater detail Major Pringle described the trenches, recommending Capt. Bruce Bairnsfather's sketches of life at the front to those who would see both its humor and its grimness.

The manner of building up parapets to supplement the shallow trench dug in the earth itself, the never-ending "fire-plank" which runs the whole length of the front trenches and is used by the men to stand on when they fire, the manner of manufacturing the simple trench periscopes, and many other little details gave a more intimate idea to many present of these matters.

Excellent Cuisine.

When Major Pringle came to a description of the soldiers' meals he grew enthusiastic. The British government had provided wonderfully for the feeding of the boys. In respect to the food furnished he could say that it was better than one usually found in the best hotels in Canada. The carcasses were frozen and shipped direct from the Argentine to France, and the boys had with their beefsteaks, cauliflower, potatoes, cheese, bread, bacon, tea, and unlimited jam. There were more than 2,000,000 men in France with the British army who had to be served by the transports. This transport system was marvellous. In ten months it had never failed to put right into the hands of the boys in the trenches the best food.

The mail system was so unique that it amounted to a perfect rural delivery—except when the channel was closed. This contingency happened when violent storms were raging in the North Sea and sweeping the dangerous mines adrift. The government never took chances with a danger of that kind. But apart from such rare suspensions in the service, letters, parcels and papers reached the men to whom they were directed with the punctuality of a perfectly organized rural delivery.

The system of changing the men in the trenches was described. With two battalions in the front trenches, one supporting, and one in billets resting, it meant that every battalion had six days' rest in every eighteen days, and during that time revelled in the anticipated luxury of hot baths, an issue of freshly-laundried underwear, and the further blessing of having their uniforms put through a cleaning process which brought them back "without a living thing in them."

Soldiers' Burial.

More saddening was the little history given by Major Pringle of the burial of a young soldier who had fallen on the field. The father, a non-commissioned officer in the same battalion, was at the service, and when the ceremony was over stepped over to the foot of the grave and silently saluted his boy.

Every grave of a British soldier was registered, and more than this, the French government had nationalized every bit of such ground.

The fine men who made up the northern battalions of England were specially referred to by the speaker. "The Dandy Ninth," the Scottish regiment which since the outbreak of the war had raised no less than sixteen battalions, also came in for particular mention as the only regiment which wore kilts both winter and summer on the battlefield. The Canadian soldiers would stand aside to watch these men pass on the march. They were such fine looking soldiers.

The Lord's Supper.

Another little touch, of which one hears little in the correspondence, came in the story of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, held in an old barn just back of the firing line. There were thirty-four men and four officers at the service. There was no table, so they fitted one up with two chairs and a door of the stable lifted off its hinges. "It was not so inconsistent as it at first appears," reminded the speaker. "He Whose love we commemorated that day was born in a stable. It was quite in harmony. After it was over

I passed round bits of paper I had prepared beforehand, asking the men to put down there the names and addresses of any whom they might wish to know of their taking part in the sacrament. I spent a whole day writing to the people whose names I got. And the letters that I got in reply from mothers and sisters in Portugal, Dublin, Trinidad, Canada—all sorts of places—I shall keep until my dying day. They would in themselves be sufficient compensation to any chaplain for having his head blown off on the battle field."

Work of the Y. M. C. A.

In conclusion the speaker paid a glowing tribute to the splendidly organized work which is being done at the front by the Y. M. C. A. Catholics, Protestants and all alike made free use of the Y. M. C. A. huts. When the men were out in the rests the only meeting places they had were the association rooms.

"I want the people of Canada to know that this is one of the finest expressions of organized Christianity that has come into the field," he said. "It calls for the best and most that can be given it in the way of support to keep it vigorously in action."

Major Pringle referred to a "movie" given under the Y. M. C. A. auspices which he had seen in a one-time girls' school, about one thousand men and some fifteen officers being present to see the pictures.

Criticism of Britain.

"There is a good deal of criticism of Britain," he said in closing. "Some say that she is not doing enough, that she has not shown herself worthy of her past. I tell you Britain has done the greatest thing that any nation has ever done in history: first of all, she faced the Germans for justice sake, to keep her pledge to the smaller nation. Second, she has swept the seas clean of enemy fleets and has kept the ways open for her own and the allies' ships and those of neutral nations; she has fed and clothed and paid the Belgian army; she has financed herself; she has financed Canada too, we must not forget, to the extent of about $18,000,000; and France, Serbia, Russia she has also helped. She has done transport work for all the allies. Britannia is a female, and she wears an apron when she goes about her work. She does it properly. She has raised and equipped over 5,000,000 men. She has drawn to her side the children of every colony and dominion and dependency in the empire. And she has kept through all the sympathy of the masses (not all ways the rulers) of practically every ruling nation. She has made mistakes, but in spite of these mistakes, and perhaps because of them, she has held back the enemy troops from doing effective work elsewhere. And there are three things that ensure victory for us. First, God is with us, for God loveth a righteous cause; second, the

GEORGIAN CIRCUIT

Meeting Tuesday Night to Make Final Arrangements for Celebration Here on Friday.

On Tuesday next the committee of the Development Association and the Automobile Club, formed for the purpose of undertaking arrangements for the celebration in connection with the opening this year of the Georgian automobile circuit, will hold a meeting at the office of the Development Association to make final plans. A meeting was held yesterday afternoon at which J. L. Beckwith presided. It was decided that arrangements could best be completed next Tuesday night, by which time replies would have been received from each city of the circuit, giving the number of visitors who are coming. The celebration will be held next Friday.

Each year there is a formal opening of the circuit. Last year it was held at Port Angeles, when a large number of persons attended. The celebration is to be held here this year and many persons residing in the cities on the circuit have received special invitations.
